Opus 1953 familiarly known as Hillites-On-Parade brings you a musical history of 546 seniors and 1263 undergraduates. This long-playing platter records for you a symphony in which you play featured parts because you are students of Arthur Hill High School, Saginaw, Michigan. Muted strains introduce your first appearance as timid but ambitious sophomores; colorful and bright passages record your academic progress as happy and inspired juniors; confident and determined marches tell of your success and ambition as graduating seniors. Underlying all is a secondary theme, rhythmic and melodious, reminiscent of your social life. May this recording, each time you hear it, bring back memories of fun, friendship, and achievement.

Life is a melody — especially life at Arthur Hill! The harmony is the result of dreaming, planning, and working together. It is fitting and proper that this review, produced by the Class of '53, be brought to you in musical terms because of the adoption this year of a new alma mater, "The Gold and Blue" — gold for memories, blue for loyalty.

Providing the musical background for the Christmas assembly is the Girls' Choir.

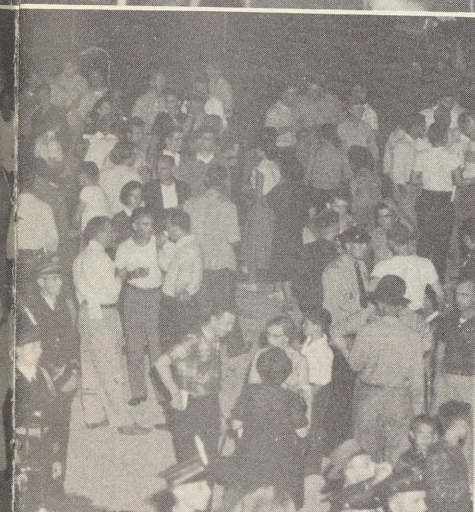

These band members provided the musical background for the songs and yells at a football game.

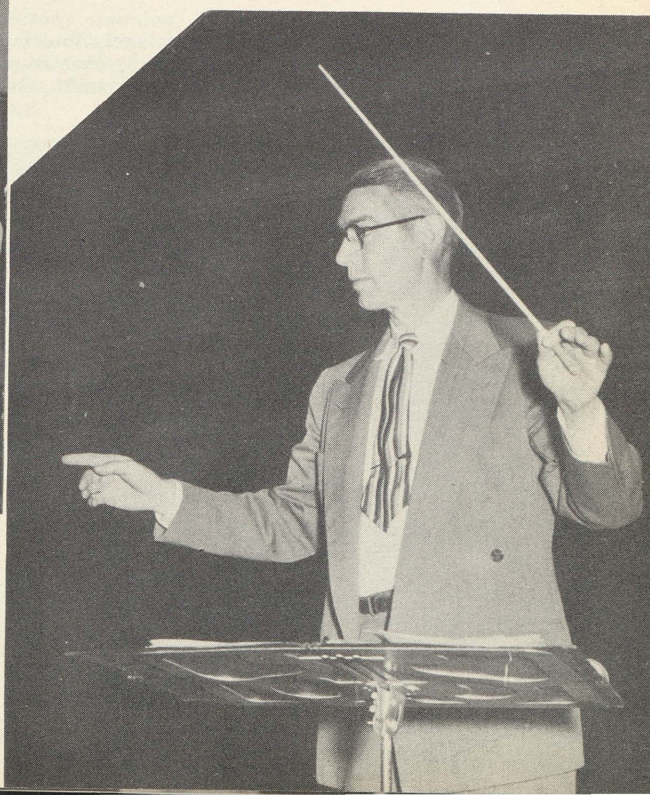

The combined choirs blend voices in the finale of the Spring Concert.

Jean Robertson, Marjorie Sting, and Sally Herm wait patiently to buy their tickets for the 1952 Band Bounce.

Mr. Earl D. Burnett ably directs the band and supervises the music program of the school.

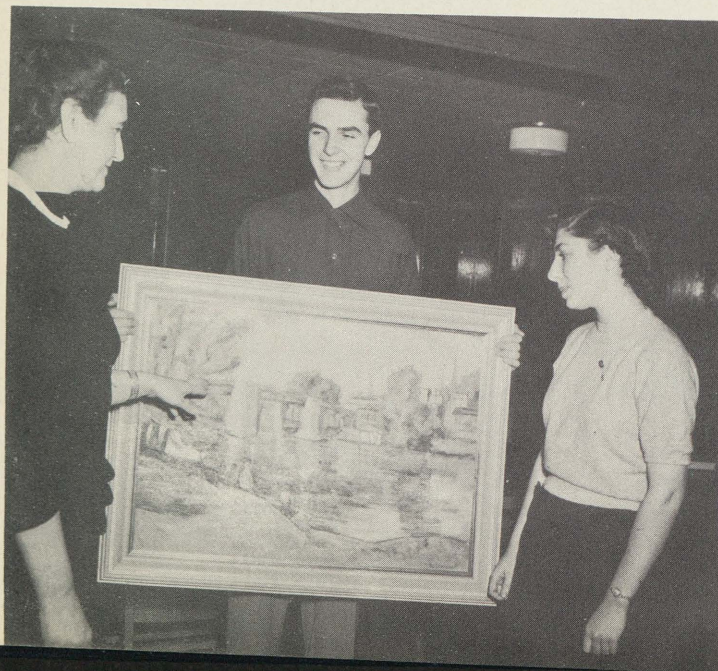

To the Music Department — for their inspiring performances and the new alma mater, “The Gold and Blue” — we, the staff in behalf of the school dedicate this 1953 Legenda. Their contributions to Arthur Hill have been outstanding throughout the years.

A turn around the square, the auditorium to be more exact, to a specific destination or perhaps just for an excuse to look at the events on the hall calendar begins the school day for these Hillites.

In memory of Miss Frances Hinrichsen, librarian, a favorite scene of the Court Street bridge painted by Mrs. Beatrice Leaman was placed in library 163. Mrs. Frances Hamlin, Gerry Herbert, and Betty Kendall admire this oil painting.

Christmas at Arthur Hill is augmented by a large tree in the main corridor. Carol Scherping and Josephine Emmitt of the art department decorate this year's tree with ornaments other students have created.

School life is a medley.

An adagio selection introduces each school year as you gradually become adjusted: sections marked allegro express your confidence as you make friends and adjust to your classes; crescendo movements indicate your growing happiness and contentment. Largo indicates your successes and achievements; staccato passages point up the parties and extra-curricular activities. The notations presto and fortissimo prepare you for the fine that announces, with a flourish, your graduation.

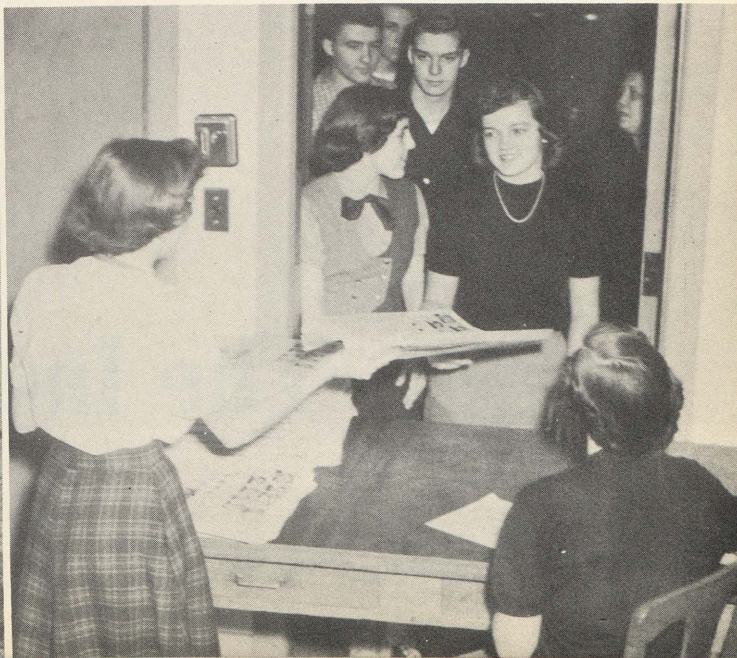

Music brings back memories. This medley should make you think of best-friends and classmates; white bucks and hair cut fads, fifth hour lunch and lecture notes, games and parties. The melody lingers on!

The Inspiration

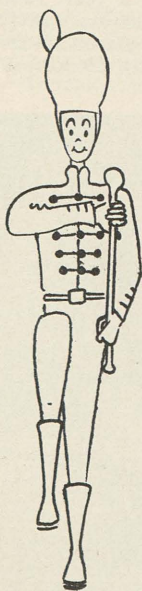

Improving the appearance of the school grounds by planting pine trees around the border was a project for the FFA Club this year. Completing the job is Gordon Roosa.

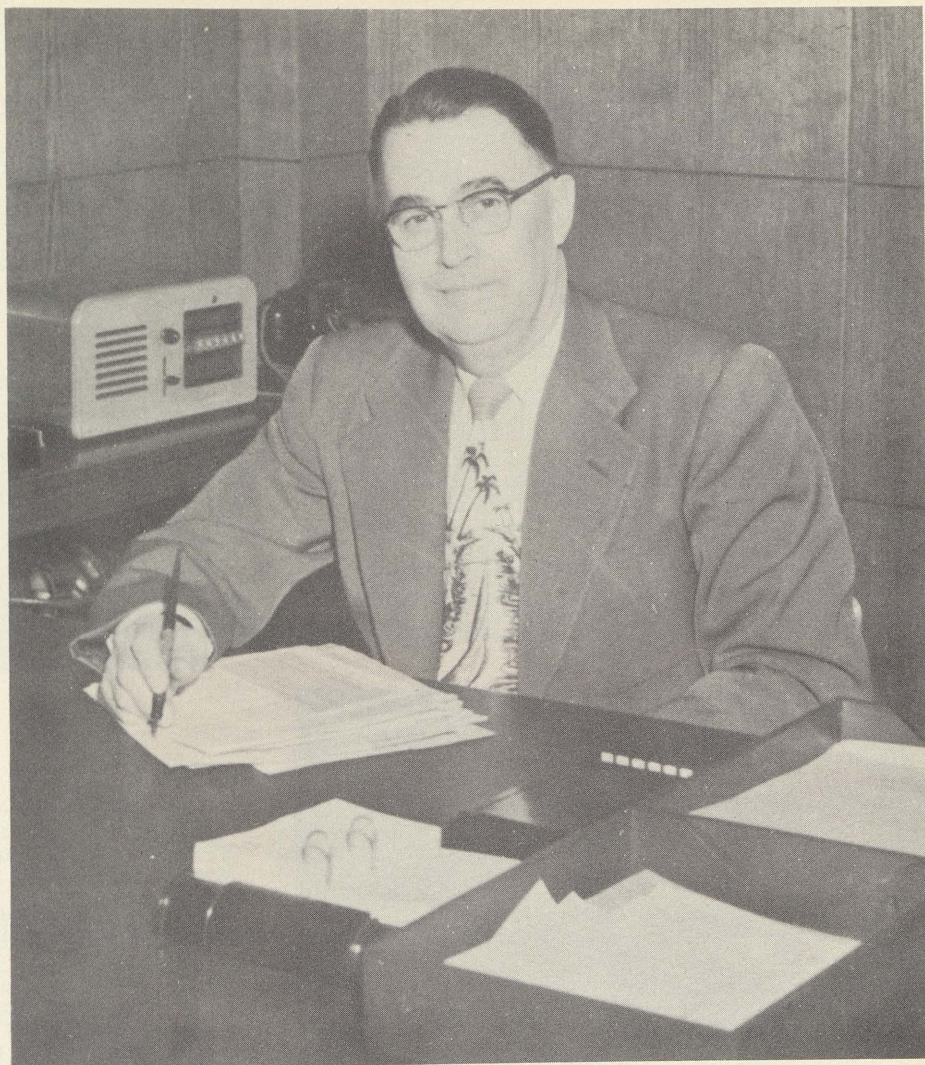

Wednesday morning, fifteen times a year, Arthur Hill News editors, Dee Galonska and Nancy Kneuss, distribute papers to advisory vice-presidents. Waiting for papers are Dorothy Thompson, Lynn Siler, Tom Lampel, Kelly Hendrick, and Norman Sowatsky.

The Board of Education, administration and teachers, the office staff, and the students make up a "four part harmony". Quartet singing requires a blending of voices. The first groups guide and inspire with encouraging words and helpful advice; they give us the "pitch". Under faculty direction, students work together on projects, explore fields of common interest, conduct campaigns for worthwhile organization, and train for chosen careers. Hillites have enjoyed singing together, have given a creditable performance, and now look forward to composing a satisfying future.

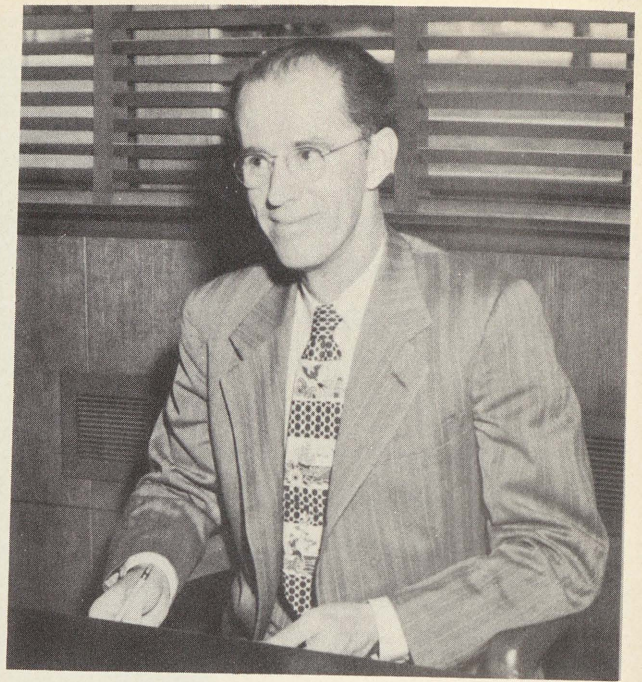

The Instrumentation

Mr. I. M. Brock, principal, guides the general policy of the school. Through the Faculty Cabinet and Student Cabinet members he supervises life at Arthur Hill.

Mr. Raymond W. Morrow, assistant principal, in addition to his counselling, is in charge of the Service and Drivers Clubs, eligibility lists, keys, clocks, and lockers.

Miss Ethel A. Peterson, dean of girls, advises students on personal problems pertaining to home and school.

Heading the office staff is Miss Doris K. Frye, school secretary. Miss Carla Almquist and Miss Mary Louise Grundas (not pictured) are the clerks, and Mrs. Lorraine A. Hudson is school stenographer.

Student Cabinet officers are elected by the student body. Victor Landeryou, first semester vice-president and second semester treasurer; Donald Weichert, first semester treasurer; Ruth Schultz, secretary; and Richard Schluckbier, president, await the third hour meeting of the cabinet. James Woodrow, second semester vice-president, is missing from the picture.

Advisory presidents are elected by approximately 35 sophomore, junior, and senior students in each advisory. These 58 presidents compose the student cabinet. The advisory presidents take charge of activities during advisory meetings the first fifteen minutes of each day.

Cabinet projects this year included student organization membership, supervising Noon Club, and planning for placing the school's name across the front of the building. Principal I. M. Brock is the Cabinet adviser.

Senior Hostesses greet visitors, show them around the school, and help the office staff. Girls selected from letters of application and an interview are Carla Almquist, Carol McMacken, Judy Prining, Gail Gossel, Norene Cherry, Sandra VanDerstein, and Marilyn Little. Miss Ethel A. Peterson is their sponsor.

Early arrival, between 7:30 and 8:00 a.m. qualifies Service Club members. These Hillites control halls before the 8:05 bell. Serving this year are Merriel Holloway, lieutenant; Dora Gonzales, Rosemary Seibert, Marilyn Vasold, and Meredith Holloway.

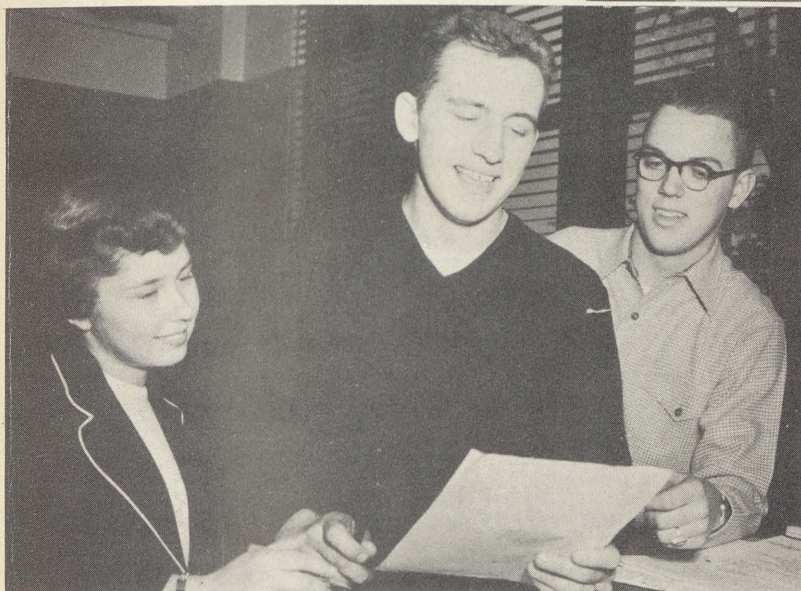

Cafeteria assistants help Miss Ellen Green, supervisor, with hostess duties through the noon hour. Staff members this year are Don Turner, John Steverman, Florence Schmidt, Dick Steele, Lydia Tolfree, David Lantz, and Bill Colpean. Katherine Stark is missing from the picture.

At the desk in library 163 are the student librarians. These girls check books in and out and keep the library neat and in order to assist Miss Ruth Long, librarian. Student librarians—Beverly Miller, Nancy Worthington, Mary Jane Heit-kamp, Marilyn Stinson, Pat Leyrer, Mae Maier, Nancy Schneider, Shirley Chema, Lila Basner, Shirley Pagenkopf, and seated: Janet Weir, Mary Yarger, and Joan Moreau, Clinic Attendants take charge of the health room to assist anyone who is temporarily ill during school hours. Eleanor Bull, a member of the home nursing class, starts her shift of duty, which is really her library period. Attendants register patients, help make them comfortable, or report to the office those who do not improve immediately.

All licensed drivers are eligible to membership in the Student Drivers Club. Officers and council members meet once a month to discuss traffic problems in and around the campus. Marilyn Little is secretary; Mike Sverid, vice-president; and Bill Booth, president.

Noon Club Committee members plan for lunch-time entertainment in the gyms during the winter days. Dancing to platter music or sitting on the bleachers chatting are favorite pastimes. The committee Bill Booth, Dick Schluckbier, and Orrin Geeting.

Pep Club members represent their advisory groups to organize school pep. Barbara Armstrong is secretary; Jim Woodrow, president; and Art Keith, vice-president, with Miss Mary Margaret Doidge, faculty adviser. appointed from the Student Cabinet to supervise the two noon periods includes Student and teacher members of the assembly committee select and supervise assembly programs for the entire school year. This year's members include Larry Wills, Miss Mary Lewis, Miss Contance McWethy, Arlee Ann Rosenberg, Judy Moretti, Mr. Nancy Baxter, Richard Hausler, Paul Chamberlin, Mrs. Frances Hamlin, Miss Burnice Gibbs, and Susan Haft.

Projection Club members assist with the audio-visual programs. They are trained to operate film projectors and have headquarters in the projection booth on the second floor at the top of the auditorium. Eugene Budd, right, reviews different adjustments with other operators Jim McCormick, Lloyd Cartwright, Dick Elvin, Leonard Frank, and John VanDerstein.

Ushers Club members are hostesses to all auditorium groups. For assemblies, plays, and concerts these girls take tickets, give out programs and show guests to their seats. Ushers—Top Row: Joyce LaVere, Barbara Steinke, Marilyn Stein, Jeanne Sovey, Carla Almquist, Kay Batton, Marcia Flucke, Nancy Jakes, Matilda Spindler, Joy Smith, Joyce Harnois, Evelyn Finger, Karen Beatty, and Miss Helen Beeson, adviser.

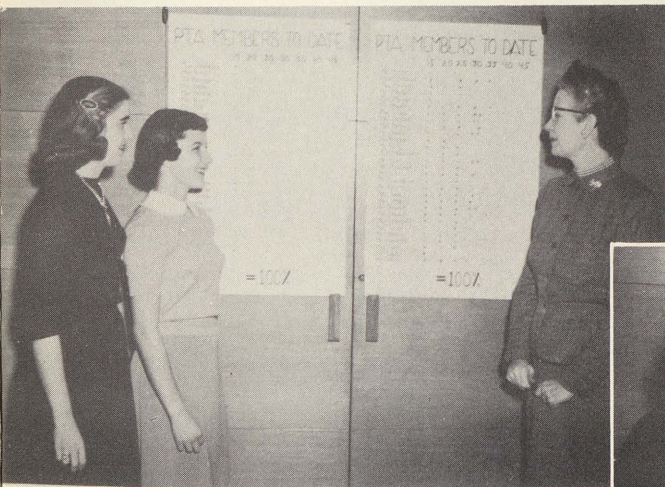

Stage Crew members run the show backstage. They set lights, props, sound effects, and pull curtains for each stage performance. Leonard Zorn, Lloyd Cartwright, and Herbert McCullagh adjust the curtains for a coming performance under the direction of Mr. Stanley Schubert, dramatic director.

"Sorry, boys, better luck next year," was a common phrase heard from the girls after the 1952 Student Organization Drive was over. Mr. Charles Fowler, faculty adviser for the boys, and the student leaders Don Weichert and Allen Keyser showed determination. Mrs. Nancy Baxter, faculty adviser for the girls, Marilyn Heath, and Nancy Jakes led the girls to victory. The girls defeated the boys in the campaign by a 5 per cent margin—92 per cent to 87 per cent. The boys paid the loser penalty by giving their annual assembly. The school percentage dropped from 93 per cent to 89 per cent of the student body.

The P-TA Membership Drive reached an all-time high of 1,846 memberships. Mrs. Mary Stewart, teacher sponsor; Dr. Norman Westlund, president; Marcia Flucke and Janet O'Brien, student co-chairmen, combined their efforts to promote this campaign. Thirty-five of the fifty-eight advisories attained 100 percent membership with the help of student and parent chairmen.

Junior Red Cross membership drive efforts brought in a contribution of $212 as Arthur Hill's part in the public school fund. Pat Ashbaugh is JRC treasurer; Barbara Whitmer, president; and Ruth Brownrigg, vice-president. Miss Christine Webb, faculty adviser, and Jan Davis, secretary, are missing from the picture.

Student Cabinet officers, Richard Schluckbier, president; Ruth Schultz, secretary; Victor Landeryou, vice-president; and Donald Weichert, treasurer had the task of counting and tabulating the all-school election for President of the United States last November. Incidentally, "Ike" came out on top.

The "Big 14" of Club Hillite are the season chairmen for each standing committee. They are chosen from the girl and boy advisory representatives. This year's members under the sponsorship of Mr. Harve C. Light are: Pauline Nichols, Phyllis Ward, Allen White, Barbara Armstrong, Margaret Bueker, Marily Little, Mike Sverid, Adelaide Brown, Dee Ette Galonska, Howard Schmidt, Jerry Miller, and Arthur Keith. John Barsch and Fred Ahlborn are missing from the picture.

Phyllis Bussey and Willard Wallgren enjoy one of the Club Hillite parties this year. Games, dancing, and refreshments are as Hillites want them. Seven advisories supply committeemen and sponsor the dance each time, rotating alphabetically.

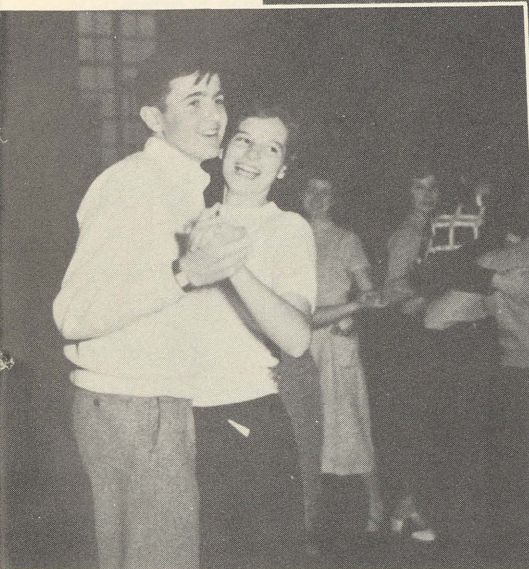

The Dance Band plays jazz, swing, and mellow music for Hillite dancers besides appearing at assemblies and on Band Bounce programs. Band members: Allen Spousta, Claude Lemmer, Arnold Ruskin, trumpet; John Leaman, Ray Voelker, trombone; Dick Hausler, Bob Radina, saxophone; Earl Somerville, John Barsch, clarinet; Jerry Timmons, saxophone; Hugh Halaby, drums; Fred Reinig, bass viol; Mr. Earl D. Burnett, faculty adviser; and Allen Cronk, piano.

Chaperone Mr. Herbert Hochtanner plays cards with Art Keith and his friends at a popular Club Hillite Dance. Guests may play card games or ping pong, dance, or just watch all the other folks have fun.

Allen Cronk directs the band from his piano position. The boys usually appear in gray slacks and navy blue sports coats; they use colorful stands of red and white.

John Hart and Sally Ward have a grand time at the Sophomore Party. This get-acquainted afternoon is usually a Halloween affair with a floorshow and food. Chairman Bob McDonald was assisted by advisory representatives, Miss Mary F. Lewis, sophomore adviser, and committee sponsors Carmen Brown, Penny LaFlair, Ann Gossel and Mary Louise Hinds.

The banner in the cafeteria announcing "Club Hillite This Friday Night" beckons all Hillites to the school's nightclub in the combined gyms. Everyone is welcome to enjoy an evening of dancing, games, refreshments, or just plain watching. The music, of course, is furnished by the melodious dance band; and the arrangements are taken care of by the various advisory committees under the leadership of the "Big 14".

Planning committee members for the reunion met for the first time at the home of Mrs. Helen Cartwright Boch, June 4, 1951 to make plans. Mr. Elmer Schemm was named chairman; Miss Doris Frye, secretary; Mrs. Boch, publicity; and Mr. Martin T. Jacques, banquet chairman.

About 175 persons gathered at Rolling Green on May 31, 1952 for the silver anniversary reunion of the Arthur Hill class of 1927. There were about 70 of the graduates present, and several teachers and guests. Each graduate wore a badge containing his picture cut from the 1927 Legenda.

"The Cruise of the Good Ship A. H. H. S. '27" was the theme for this reunion, which was the same theme used at their senior class banquet. Class president, Rev. Fred Schimmer, was again captain of the ship while fulfilling toastmaster's duties. Mr. Elmer Schemm was the chairman.

At the banquet, classmates, wives and husbands, and faculty of their day found that Rev. Fred Schimmer traveled the greatest distance for the top prize, Mr. Walter Ducharme had the most children, Mr. Roy Reid was the first grandparent, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith were the most recently married, Mrs. Margaret Frimberger was the first married, and Mr. Howard Mannion received the door prize.

Happy to be together for the 1927 reunion—Top Row: Mr. Charles Fernette, Mr. Elmer Schemm, Mrs. Adeline Smith, Mrs. Audrey Nelson, Mrs. Irene Turner, Rev. Fred Schimmer, Mrs. Matilda Jacques, Mrs. Doris Pendell, Mr. Frederick Gensiver, and class adviser, Mrs. O. N. Hilborn, the former Miss Janice Taylor. Seated: Mrs. Ruth Byron, Mrs. Helen Boch, Mrs. Charlotte Montgomery, and Mrs. Virginia Bluem Boyse.

Arrangement Chairman, Mr. Elmer Schemm had the honor of introducing speakers for the evening. Mrs. Schemm and Mr. Martin Jacques along with many other guests and former classmates are enjoying the evening. In the background former principal of Arthur Hill Mr. George A. Manning and Mrs. Manning from Muskegon and Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Brock visit with banqueteers.

Cabinet Members of the Parent-Teacher Association plan the year's activities. At a regular meeting are—Mr. I. M. Brock, principal; Mrs. Clarence Stewart, teacher vice-president; Dr. G. E. Tiedke, father vice-president; Dr. Norman Westlund, president; Mrs. W. K. Anderson, mother vice-president; Mrs. William B. Keyser, corresponding secretary and historian; Miss Ethel A. Peterson, adviser; and Mrs. F. M. Aunger, membership chairman. Mr. C. M. Fischer, treasurer and Miss Mattie Crump, publicity were absent.

Open House meetings twice a year give parents a chance to visit the teachers of their children. They carry the students' program for the day. Mr. and Mrs. Burrows Morley stop in to talk with Miss Ruth Patow, Buzz's English teacher.

Dr. Arnold Gardey, general chairman, assists Mrs. Claude Kieft who is busy distributing potted plants for table prizes at the card party.

Potluck dinners for advisory families are so popular that two must be planned. Each advisory plans a menu, decorates their own table. A student program and an election of officers for the next year completes the informal evening. Mrs. Elmer Schluckbier, Dick's mother, pours coffee for Mr. Stanley Schubert's advisory group.

The annual card party is the only money-making project that the P-TA has during the year. An evening at games offers another opportunity for parents and teachers to get together. Here Dr. and Mrs. Norman Westlund and Dr. and Mrs. Delbert Siler enjoy a game of cards.

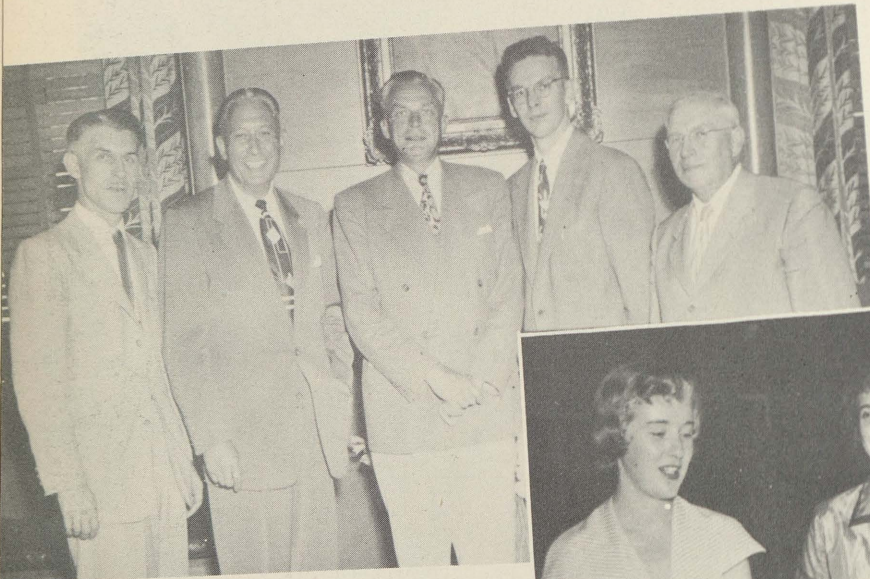

Board of Education members serve the citizens of Saginaw who elect them to manage the public schools. Their regular meetings are held the second Tuesday of the month at the Administration Building. Members: Mr. Heil M. Rockwell, treasurer; Mr. George D. Pross, business manager; Mr. Edward C. MacRae, vice-president; Mr. Roswell Burrows, board member, and Mr. J. Robert Grube, secretary. Seated: Mr. Charles C. Coulter, assistant superintendent of schools; Dr. Raymond A. Hart, president; and Mr. Chester F. Miller, superintendent.

Business and Education Day sponsored by the Board of Education, County Superintendents, and Teachers' Club in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce, found about 900 teachers as guests of 37 Saginaw places of business for a tour and luncheon guests.

Institute Week calls teachers back to school for five days of meetings and planning before students arrive. The program of the week is planned and directed by the heads of county and city schools with a teacher planning committee. A keynote speaker who is a leader in his field is brought in. Pictured are Mr. Howard W. Cordford, County Superintendent; Mr. C. C. Coulter, Assistant Superintendent of Schools; speakers, Dr. J. Martin Klotsche, President, Wisconsin State Teachers' College; Dr. C. J. Rehage, Assistant Department of Psychology, University of Chicago; and Mr. Chester F. Miller, Superintendent of Saginaw Schools.

During opening week student hostesses assist visiting teachers and guests. Senior girls assisting were Adelaide Brown, Joan Bell, Nancy Case, and Marilyn Downer. Seated: Dee Ette Galonska and Barbara Whitmer.

Faculty cabinet members represent teachers of Arthur Hill. The cabinet consults with Mr. I. M. Brock, chairman, on all school plans. The members are shown at a regular meeting. Members are Mrs. Mary Stewart; Mr. James Ulrich; Mr. I. M. Brock, principal; Miss Norma Hile; Mr. Raymond Morrow, assistant principal; Mrs. Sallie Brown, junior adviser; Miss Ethel Peterson, dean of girls; Miss Irma Stockdale, senior adviser; Miss Mary Lewis, sophomore adviser; Mr. Clarence Stewart; Miss Helen Beeson; and Mrs. Frances Hamlin. Missing from the picture is Mr. Kenneth Poulson.

Representatives to the Saginaw Teachers' Club from Arthur Hill are—Standing: Mr. A. G. Dersch, Mr. James Ulrich, Mr. Robert Shorney, and Miss Bernice Francis. Seated: Miss Cora Morgan, Miss Constance McWethy, and Miss Burnice Gibbs, chairman. These teachers attend city Teachers' Club meetings representing Arthur Hill.

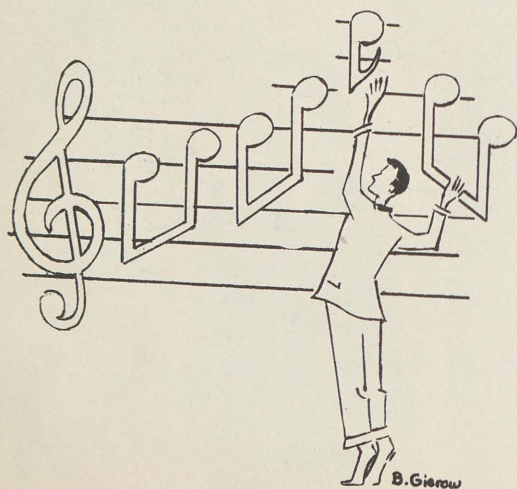

Officers of the Saginaw Teachers Club helped with the opening week institute and represent approximately 800 teachers. Mrs. Lelia Jakes is secretary; Mr. G. M. Richards, president; and Miss Lorraine Gay, vice-president. Miss Gladys Levi, treasurer, is absent from the picture.

Hillites welcomed three new teachers to the faculty last semester. New members are Mr. Prentice Ryan, Miss Susan Blitz, and Mr. Earl Mitchell. Mr. Duane Maas, not pictured, replaced Mr. Bryant Wilson at the beginning of the second semester.

From sophomores at an all-school pep session to seniors seeing their dream become a reality as they complete their high school career, Arthur Hill students come through with flying colors. Graduates leave behind them a permanent record of their achievements and the honors which they have earned . . . a record to be repeated and improved as Arthur Hill students become alumni.

Various artists and specialists appear on the program of the "Arthur Hill Symphony". Journalists concentrate on deadlines; dramatic stars appear in grease paint; apprentice scientists expound weighty theories. Some talk in Spanish, others in German or French. Some shout loudly in praise of football and basketball teams; others talk enthusiastically to advertise parties and programs. All the voices, however, blend into one great symphony.

Many students have occupied "first chair" in organizations. The various organizations at Arthur Hill give countless students a chance to play "solo" parts and allow others to gain prominence in "ensemble" work. Any students who have special ability and are willing to work can find a group with similar interests here.

The Score

Choralier members are sophomores. Winning a superior rating in the state vocal music contest, these girls have entertained for assemblies, church groups, and many civic organizations. Members are Barbara Russell, Karen Kerns, Nancy Stewart, Sally Ward, Mary Lou Kieft, Sharon Kincaid, Mary Louise Hinds, and Hallie Watson.

Three instrumental ensembles and soloists won first division or highest honors in the state instrumental contest. Eight other Hillite groups won second division.

A first division rating was given to the baritone duet. Playing a tricky melody on their baritones are Lois Tilley and Jim Groening.

Saxophone sextet members won a first division rating. The group is composed of Joe Thompson, Dick Hummel, Bob Radina, Donna Grashaw, Dick Hausler, and Dick Wenzel.

In drum solo, Walter Kemerer won state honor. Beating out a catchy rhythm Walt shows how he won the first place award,

Dance chorus goes "bugs!" This statement is meant to be taken literally. The lady bug chorus line consisted of Dee Galonska, Barbara Roche, Ann Wells, Marilyn Downer, Adelaide Brown, Janice Tech, Pauline Catrain, Carolyn Gilbert, Sally Hoag, Rachael Tiedke, Ann Metzger, and Nancy Ure. Portraying the parts of Tommy Tumble Bug and Lulu Lady Bug are Mary Middlebrook and Marcia Helmkamp. Nancy Ellis depicts the part of a villainous looking spider.

Moonlight waltz line of the Band Bounce presented color and dignity. Dancers are Edwina Blue, Nancy Rupp, Janet O'Brien, and Carole Scherping. Girls for the chorus lines are selected through all-school tryouts.

Elfrieda Beyer's piano solo, "Valse, Opus 42" by Chopin, was enjoyed by the jazz fans as well as the "long hairs" of the audience.

Accordion duet in costumes of old "Italia", Mike Parisi and Yvonne Purigroski, might very well have stepped from the pages of a story book.

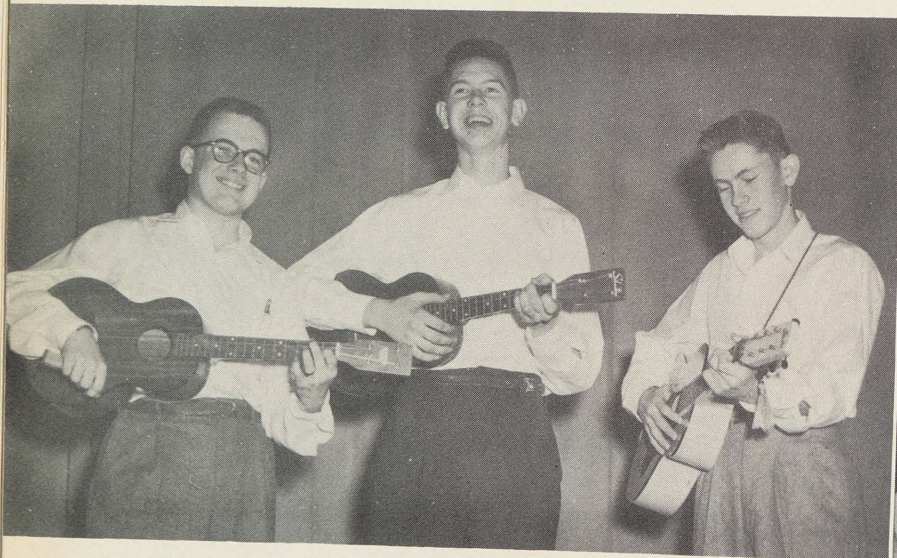

Dixieland Band members give out with those hot notes of "St. Louis Blues". Hugh Halaby on the drums, David McDermid with his licorice stick, Charles Murdock beating the ivories, John Leaman pumping his slide trombone, and Claude Lemmer giving out like Gabriel.

Self appointed Pep Band, one of the most energetic organizations at Arthur Hill, lifts the school spirit on any occasion. John Kemp leads Terry Packard, John Leaman, Claude Lemmer, Jim Daly, Eugene Martin, and Bob Radina through the halls and around the gyms.

Ukulele Trio singing and strumming their way into the hearts of students and faculty are Rod McIntosh, Don Tunney, and Jim Tucker.

BOC Club offers its members a chance to solo and tour the community. Officers study a song for one of the club programs. Chuck Schultz is vice-president; Dick Schluckbier, president; Nan Cronin, treasurer; and Ruth Schultz, secretary.

Harmonious barbershop melodies by Tom Lampel, Dick Schluckbier, Chuck Schultz, and Ernie Richman have entertained at school and civic affairs. Known as the Lost Chords, these boys hold rehearsals on their own and perform for all Saginaw.

Because of the size of the vocal music department, it has many student helpers to keep it in tip-top shape. Student director Bob Radina, president Chuck Schultz, and vice-president Jim Woodrow are in charge during rehearsals and in Miss Rachel McMillan's absence. Inga Milkereit and Marie Pietsch are the music librarians.

Band class officers for both semesters act as the behind-the-scene workers. Taking attendance, keeping the instruments in order, student direction, and seeing that instruments are at the scene of a parade are the varied duties of Jim Ahlrich, first semester band manager; Dick Hausler, president; Al Spousta, first semester vice-president; Bob Radina, assistant band manager; Denny Princing, second semester vice-president; Judy Princing, second semester secretary; Bonnie De La Vergne, first semester secretary; and Eugene Martin, second semester band manager.

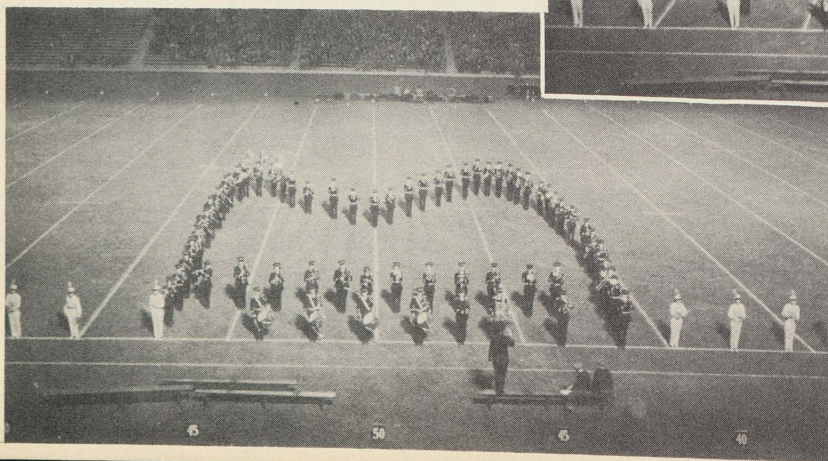

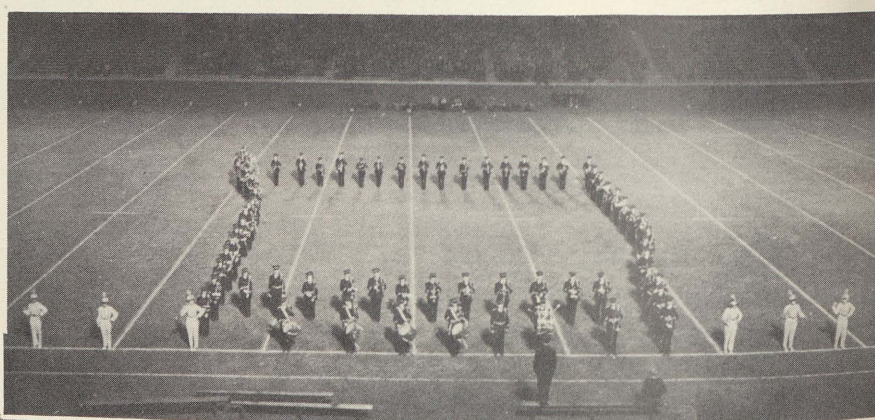

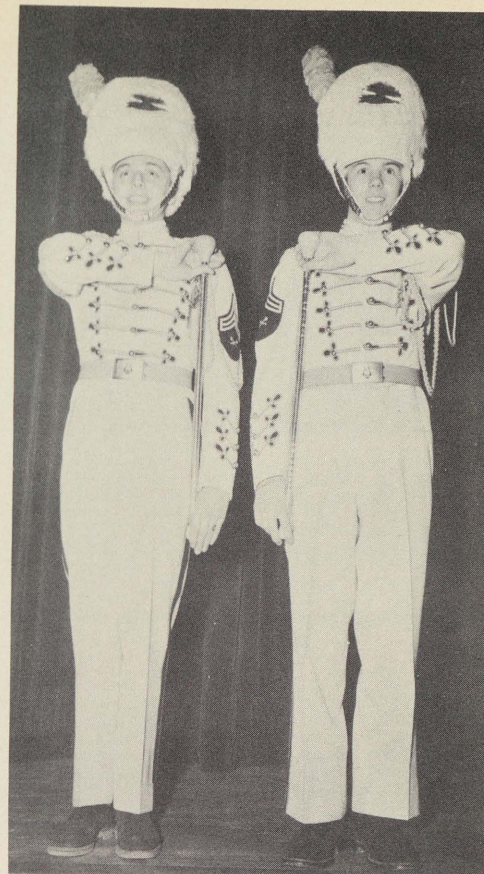

Blue and Gold marching band, under the direction of Mr. Earl D. Burnett, is one of the school's most entertaining groups. These musicians are present at all home football and basketball games encouraging the teams and keeping the audience in good humor. They are seen in nearly all of Saginaw's parades, and play for school assemblies, pep meetings, the Spring Concert, the Band Bounce and commencement. Members for both semesters included 80 members. Clarinet: Bob Black, Jean Boch, Joyce Brown, Melvin Devers, Jo Anne Fink, Mary Alice Frank, Alfred Glasby, James Harper, Carolyn Llewellyn, Eugene Martin, Robin Meyers, Jan Miller, Charles Murdock, Sally O'Brien, Nancy Rathburn, Earl Somerville, Jeanne Sovey, Edith Sparks, Dick Wenzel, and Brad Zuver; oboe: Bonnie De La Vergne; flute: Mary Card, Shirley Hart-sell, Gladys Hetzner, Dawn Kischnick, Mary Pressprich, and Sandralee Williams; french horn: Beverly DeShone, Rita Geer,

Band formations from the marching band's "hat parade" are the familiar ten-gallon hat and high silk topper. These were just two of the chapeau styles which the adept marching-players presented at the 1952 homecoming game. In closing the half-time program the band formed the traditional "AH" monogram shown above.

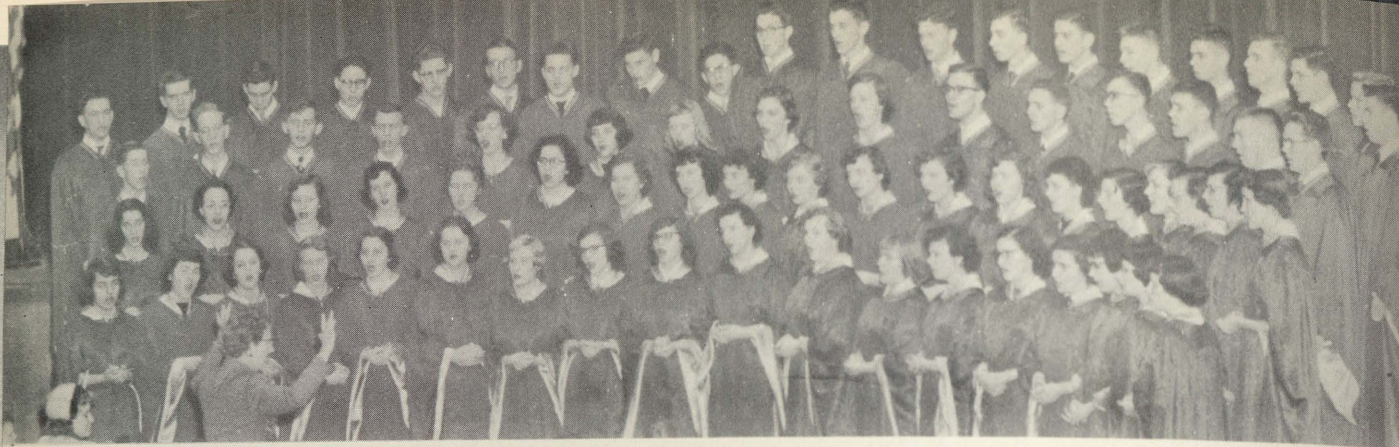

Phyllis Ward, majorette leader, assumed full responsibility for training the other six girls for the precision twirling routines seen at football games and parades.

Drum majors all the way—leading the marching band are seniors, Allen Spousta and Bob Radina. Batons and whistles talk directions for all band formations.

Drum majorettes in military uniforms add snap and color to any parade or football half time. Barbara Bauer, Mary Ann Kingsbury, Jerry Barrenscheer, Phyllis Ward, Joan Niebel, Elaine Inman, and Penny La Flair represented the school this year. Jerry, Phyllis, Elaine, and Mary Ann received band letters for two years of strutting.

Concert Band members portray a dual role. Each fall they march at football games, but in the spring they become the dignified concert band taking part in the Spring Music Festival and Band Bounce.

A cappella choir members represent Arthur Hill in public appearances such as assemblies, civic programs, club meetings, concerts, and church services. Top Row: Edwin Fabricius, Maurice Swarthout, Claude Lemmer, Peter Keyser, Roy Beyerlein, James Reimer, John Kemp, Lawrence Passon, Larry Cantu, Charles Schuit, Don Bruns, Marwood Frank, Willard Wallgren, Clifford Klein, James Geeting, James Daly, Jim Perry, Paul Smith, John Hilbrandt, Garth Westendorf. Third Row: Duane Thon, Dale Downey, Jerry Hoffman, Herbert Neuwirth, Joan Payne, Audrey Hull, Gay Gage, Barbara Cherry, Phyllis Schaberg, Dick Schluckbier, Bob Radina, Dennis Waters, Leonard Gerkin, George Clayton, Paul Gorton.

Girls' choir members sing in six part harmony in the annual Christmas Pageant, Spring Concert, and Band Bounce. Top Row: Ruth Davies, Margaret Metina, Francis Doran, Ardith Parks, Sally Thomas, Kay Geiger, Mary Frick, Rochele Smoder, Doris Fanger, Kay Woolgar, Nancy Stoddard, Sigrid Epple, Joan MacArthur, and Pearline Callas. Third Row: Susie White, Ruth Allen, Erna Kobs, Joan Moreau, Joyce Zegelein, Lois Golden, Barbara Krauss, Shirley Gullifor, Kathleen Dungey, Sue Guy, Joan Gorney, Rosemarie LeFevre, Janet Bailey, Anna Dee, and Grace

Lamia.

The reserve a cappella choir under the direction of Miss Rachel McMillan is used to augment the other choirs of Arthur Hill. Harmonizing in the annual Spring Concert are—Top Row: Calvin Caster, Alfred LaFreniere, Hugo Karp, Bob Berg, Roy Beyerlein, Bob Reed, Ernest Wiel, John Kemp, Andy Austin, Tom Reinke, Tom Lampel, Bob Bowden, Harry Brooks, and Dennis Hartner. Third Row: Joann Dalton, Ruth Brownrigg, Mary Ann Cutting, Yvonne Ballard, Joy Riselay, Carole Parker, Gretta Westin, Beatrice Allington, Lois Lincoln, Ellen Luenberger, and Evelyn Lear.

Vocal music under the direction of Miss Rachel McMillan entertains at assemblies, Christmas Pageants, graduation ceremonies, and concerts besides singing for civic clubs and church services. The a cappella choir and boys' choir have made recordings for national contests. They augmented the presentations of Bach's "St.

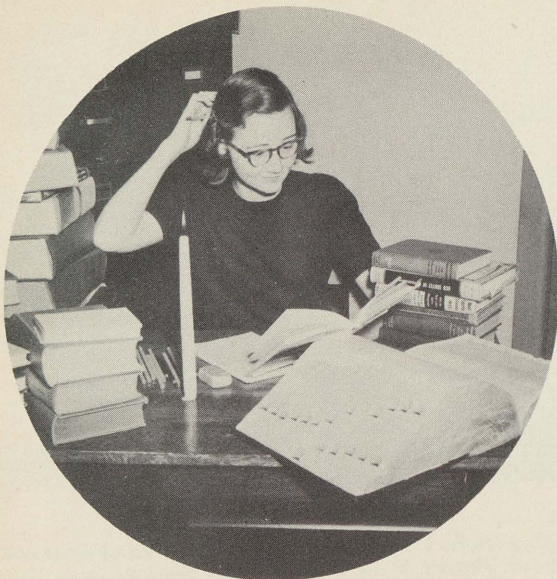

Matthew's Passion," by the University of Michigan choir and Handel's "Messiah," by the Saginaw Civic Chorus. The members of the choir are chosen by Miss Rachel McMillan for their voice strength, pitch, and musical abilities. "Balance and coordination are necessary for a good choir," says Miss McMillan.

Boys' choir members, winner of a state vocal music award, is an extracurricular activity with practices held on Tuesday and Thursday mornings before school. Singing at the spring concert are—Top Row: Earl Somerville, Eugene Martin, Charles Murdoch, Hugo Karp, Bob Berg, Peter Keyser, Roy Beyerlein, Don Bruns, Charles Schultz, Marwood Frank, Willard Wallgren, Tom Lampel, James Geeting, James Daly, James Perry, Paul Smith, John Senn, Garth Westendorf.

Representative of all seniors the night before the thousand word theme deadline is Beverly Dillon, seen here putting on the finishing touches. Seniors always regret the last minute rush when they find how interesting their subject matter really is.

English Study consists of college or non-college courses. Among the many projects during a student's three years are: the illustration of a selected short story by sophomores, the reading of The House of the Seven Gables by juniors, the writing of a one thousand word theme by seniors, and required spelling in each grade. Miss Irma Stockdale is English Department chairman.

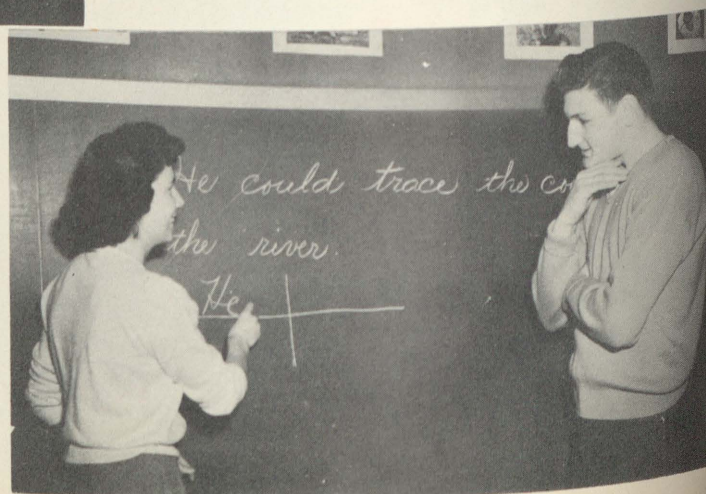

Reading short stories for vocabulary and style occupies a good deal of the time in junior English. Mrs. June O'Dell explains the technique of short story writing to Judy Constantine, Lou Ann Heck, John Schallhorn, Bill Anderson, and Yvonne Purigroski.

In senior English, Mrs. Frances Hamlin assists seniors Dick Gremel, Nan Cronin, Glenn Knoll, Carol Gushen, and Marvin McIntosh in the selection of plays from a varied assortment on her desk.

In sophomore English, Dixie Coughran diagrams a sentence for Ernest Dijak. Second semester literature gives a taste of form and vocabulary study.

In speech class, Beverly DeShone makes a point in a practice speech with poise and confidence. Classmates looking on are Darlene Moreland, Barbara Whitmer, and Marlene Galonska.

While preparing for this year's debate question, "Resolved, that the Atlantic Pact nations should form a federal union," Ed Richter, Darlene Moreland, Joyce Marti, Beverly DeShone, Helen Nusz, Barbara Armstrong, Barbara Whitmer, Marlene Galonska, Dick Wenzel, and Nan Joy Cronin compare their notes on the negative and affirmative sides. Mrs. Nancy Baxter, instructor, coached this group to fifth place in the Valley Tournament.

Finalists in the Saginaw Valley Forensic League's tournament are Karen Wooll, Helen Nusz, Delores Arriaga, Joyce Marti, Ruth Allen, Polly Stormont, and Paul Chamberlin. Joyce placed second in the Valley and competed in the regional contest at Lansing.

"Variety" is the slogan of the Arthur Hill assembly series. On the more humorous side are found the Boys' Student Organization Assembly and the all-school talent show. Serious entertainment is provided by Arthur Hill's Christmas gift to the community, the Christmas Pageant, and the annual Award and Honor Assemblies in the spring. In addition to student programs are a number of carefully selected professional artists. All programs are open to the public, the balcony being reserved for the guests.

Programs Offered During 1952-53

September	Pruth McFarlin—Tenor
October.....	Boys' Student Organization Penalty Assembly Homecoming—Crowning of Queen
November.....	Armistice Day Memorial Service Thanksgiving Pep Session
December	Lewis Shannon—Speaker Christmas Pageant "A Christmas Carol"

Bill Booth introduced Dr. Gerald Priestly, a well-known world lecturer and traveler. Dr. Priestly spoke on "The Challenge of the 20th Century".

Barbara Whitmer assisted Mr. Louis Shannon in his program dealing with the history of celluloid. The program was sponsored by the DuPont Company.

John Kemp and Jim Wagner drew many hearty laughs with their cycle act. The boys of the school entertained the girls as a penalty for losing the annual Student Organization Membership Drive.

"The Shooting of Dan McGrew" was presented for the Student Organization Assembly by the following group: Mike Sverid, Bob Schlaefke, Don Brady, Ed Blue, Jerry Doyle, Jim Woodrow, Bob Pumford, John Greene, Jim Markle, Bob Becker, Howard Schmidt, and Al Keyser.

January.....	Debate—Saginaw High vs. Arthur Hill Hedley Hepworth—Impersonations
February	Student Program
March	Talent Show
	George Campbell—Song Leader
April	Student Program
	Awards Assembly
May.....	National Honor and Honor Alumnus Program
	Senior Day Assembly

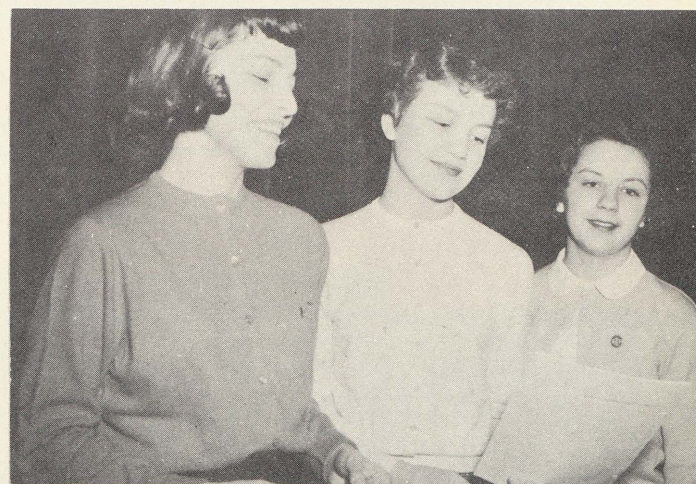

The grand finale of the Christmas Pageant depicts the peaceful serenity of the nativity. Carol Curtain is shown as Mary, and Robert Wolfram as Joseph. The Christmas pageant is the school's gift to the community. For this program three plays are rotated.

Dickens' "Christmas Carol" was presented this year; next year "Emmanuel"; and the next, "Why the Chimes Rang". Hillites see all three programs during their stay at Arthur Hill. The program is always closed with the nativity scene.

"Overtones", a one act play, was the senior group presentation in the Arts-Dramatics Club Play Tournament. Participants were Bonnie Niederstadt, Myrna Yancer, Joan Randall, and Dee Galonska.

Arts-Dramatics Club calls all students interested in dramatics. The group sponsors the Christmas Pageant and the play tournament and meets the first and third Monday for theater chatter. Marilyn Heath is vice-president; Carla Almquist, treasurer; and Ruth Schultz, president. Missing is Nan Cronin, secretary.

In "A Christmas Carol", solicitors Gerry Herbert and Joe Thompson meet with the tyrannical Ebenezer Scrooge, Dittmar Finke. Impoverished employee, Bob Cratchit, Robert Wolfram, works in fear.

"Cheaper by the Dozen" was this year's first semester play. Here, Dick Schluckbier has a moment of indecision while Dick Wenzel, Jack Galsterer, Gerry Herbert, Nancy Rupp, Marcia Flucke, and Pat Ashbaugh wait apprehensively.

Confident of their daughter's, Nancy Rupp, abilities, Father and Mother Gilbreth, Dick and Marcia, watch teacher Pat Harden correct her exam paper.

Mrs. Gilbreth, Marcia, attempts vainly to convince her belligerent husband, Dick, that dating isn't the wicked pastime he thinks it is.

Part of the Gilbreth dozen awaits Father's inspection. Standing at attention are Jerry Hoffman, Don Daenzer, Pat Ashbaugh, Polly Stormont, Dick Wenzel, Jack Galsterer, and Deanna Proux.

"Quality Street", by Sir James M. Barrie, was this year's senior play. This old fashioned love story took place during the Napoleonic wars. Members of the cast not shown are Valentine Brown, played by Dick Schluckbier; Patti, Barbara Whitmer; Harriet, Judy Richards; Lieutenant Spicer, Al Glasby; recruiting sergeant, Ed Richter; soldiers: Jerry Hoffman, John Hackett, and Gerry Herbert; ladies, Pat Rennert and Joan Bohnhoff.

Anything so gala as a ball is bound to create some excitement. Here discussing the event are Ensign Blades, Bruce Sanders; and Charlotte Parrat, Nan-Joy Cronin.

Good posture, stomach in and chest out, is a fact which Ruth Schultz, Miss Phoebe, is trying to impress upon Jack Galsterer, Georgie. School children, Lou Ann Schallhorn and Bonnie Niederstadt are discussing this action while Dick Wenzel watches from under his dunce cap.

Confident of her suitor's proposal, Ruth Schulz, as Miss Phoebe, tells her sister Joan Randall as Susan, the good news.

Prying into other people's affairs occupies most of the time of these old maids. Shown here discussing a neighborhood scandal are Jean Irving as Miss Willoughby, Dixie Williams as Miss Henrietta, and Serena Gray as Miss Fanny. Joan Randall as Miss Susan, overhears their remarks.

Quill-Scroll, international honor society for high school journalists, meets to honor publication students and promote journalism. The group co-sponsors the Honor Alumnus recognition, plans the fall and spring trips to state press meetings, and enters individual and group writing in national competition. Miss Mattie Crump is the faculty sponsor. Treanor Chapter officers are Margaret Bueker, first semester secretary; Sue Shorney, president; Dee Galonska, vice-president; Shirley Sherman, second semester secretary; Carol Rice, first semester pledge master; and Adelaide Brown, second semester pledge master.

Conferences with the printer prove valuable in the editing of a yearbook. Jean Boch, editor of the 1953 Legenda, discusses layout with Mr. Al Weathery, printer representative of this year's book.

For being the best high school newspaper in Michigan, the John S. Knight Trophy was awarded by the Michigan State College journalism department in behalf of the Detroit Free Press.

Sue Shorney, 1953 Arthur Hill News Editor and 1952 Junior Journalist Award winner, accepts the trophy for the school from Al Hansen, '51 Legenda editor who represents Michigan State College school of journalism.

For being the top advertising managers in the nation in Class A high schools, Jerry Barrenscheer and Kathleen Greer were awarded the Vincent Edwards Socrates Junior Award. Arthur Hill News is the first high school publication in Michigan to receive this honor.

Pat Ashbaugh and Julie Hoffman deliver the school news every Thursday over Radio Station WSGW. This weekly broadcast covers school life for the community.

News underclassmen are reporters and edit the junior issue of the News. Each student must have fifty inches of copy published before his name can appear in the masthead. Standing: Gale Kleinert, Rosemary Veitengruber, Judy Holland, Barbara Bullock, Marcia Flucke, Dick Simpson, Janet, Kwaiser, Joyce Minns, Luanne Cooper, Charlene Campbell, Judy Constantine. Seated: Dick Wenzel, Mary Ann Muehlenbeck, Pat Ashbaugh, Carol Rice, Junior issue editor; Rachel Tiedke, and Dick Ault.

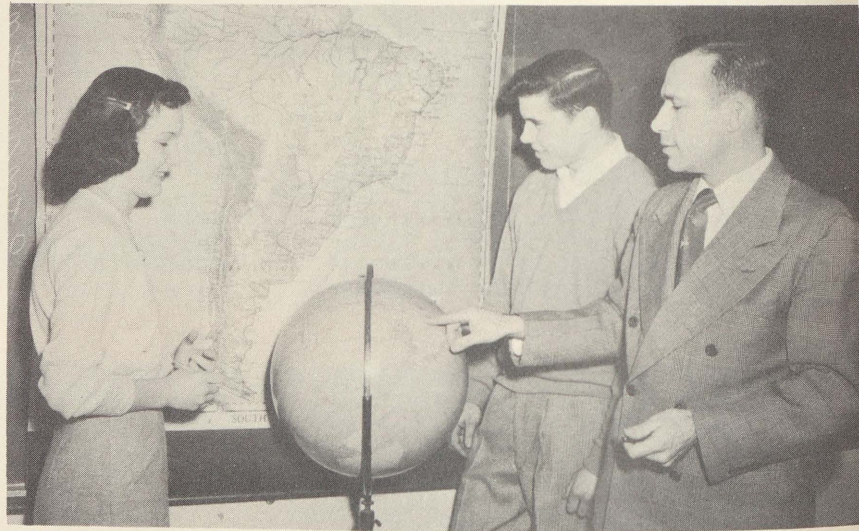

In world history class students are able to compare the problems of the modern world with those of the old world. Joyce Dubay, Hyatt Carter, Beatrice Allington, Connie Barry, and Phyliss Bussey listen to an explanation of a chapter by Mr. Prentice Ryan.

Social Science at Arthur Hill includes world and American history, geography, government, economics, psychology, art of living and such extra curricular activities as Government Day, Y-Teens, Hi-Y Clubs. Through these courses of study students have a better understanding of city, state, national and world events. They obtain a deeper appreciation of the problems of all mankind and recognition of their part in these affairs.

Barbara Anderson and Norm Meyer locate some of the South American countries on the map and globe in their study of different lands and peoples. The type of soil and climate of these countries are described by Mr. R. George Purdy.

Norma Powers gives a report from the AMERICAN OBSERVER. These current events are the basis of class discussion. The class listens and then discusses the topic. Standing are Paul Smith and Ted Schmidt; seated are Inge Milkereit, Dave Johnson, Jo Ann Pockrandt, John Slachta, Louise Vasold, and Marie Ederer.

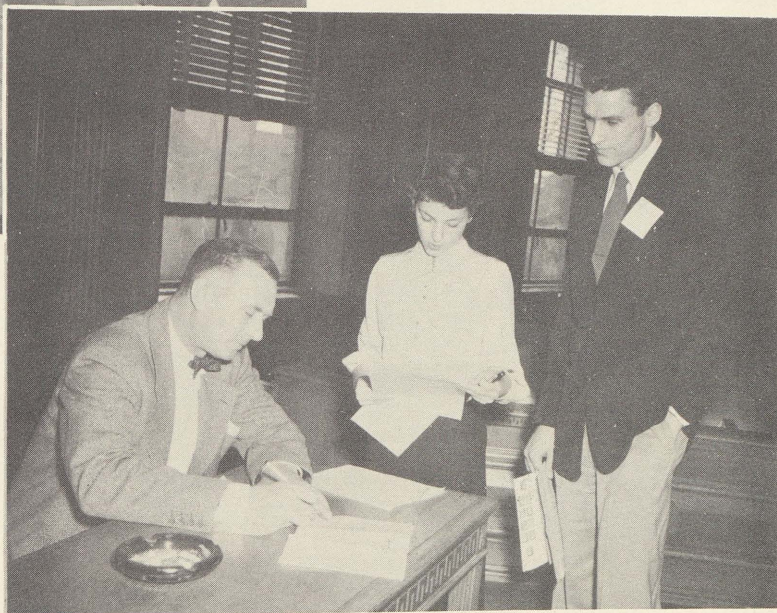

Social Science, American history, government, and economics, are required. For a major a student may add world history. Studying a unit in class are Marlene Glick, Joan Green, Pauline Nichols, Shirley Sager, Dale Wakeman, and Larry White. Mrs. Sallie M. Brown, Social Science Department Head, answers questions.

County Government Day, December 1 and Student Government Day, March 28 gave seniors a chance to participate in and to better understand the jobs of local and county officials. Mr. Lawrence Savage, administrative assistant, speaks to student officials from Arthur Hill and Saginaw High Schools at the annual Student Government Day sponsored by Saginaw City government and the local post of the American Legion.

Bonnie Niederstadt, city clerk, and Vic Landeryou, city councilman, confer with Saginaw News reporter Edward Miller on the various meetings and events of the Student Government.

Y-Teens is a girls' service club under the supervision of the Young Women's Christian Association. Participation in planning service projects and combined social meetings with Hi-Y provides opportunity for individual growth. Norma Powers is vice-president; Eunice Bowen, president; and Joyce Brieske, treasurer. Miss Susan Blitz is club sponsor.

The Hi-Y Club introduces boys to the work of a service organization. With funds earned through social functions such as the sale of candy at basketball games and co-sponsoring student dances with the Y-Teens after games, the boys presented the school with a special type of film projector. Tom Lampel is vice-president; Mr. James Ulrich, club sponsor; Melvin Devers, president; and Allen Reeves, treasurer.

The Miracle Book Club meets twice a week before school for a morning devotional period and also sponsors spiritual and social projects for church youth fellowship. Mary Jane Heitkamp is treasurer; Ella Jo Robinson, secretary; Miss Gertrude Turner, adviser; and Lorraine Kruske, president.

In the city and national wide Crusade for Freedom campaign the student body sent freedomgrams and contributions overseas. A film and talk were presented at an all-school assembly in December. Mr. Edward Littel explains to Hans Hennecke and Marilyn Downer about the people who receive these messages. Mr. Ralph Andrews, '45 Arthur Hill alumnus, presented the film and gave a talk.

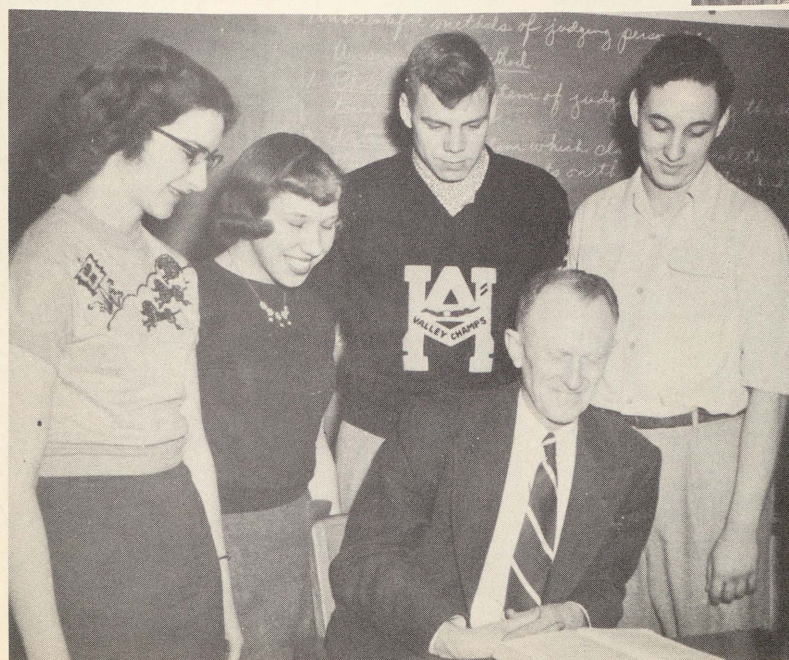

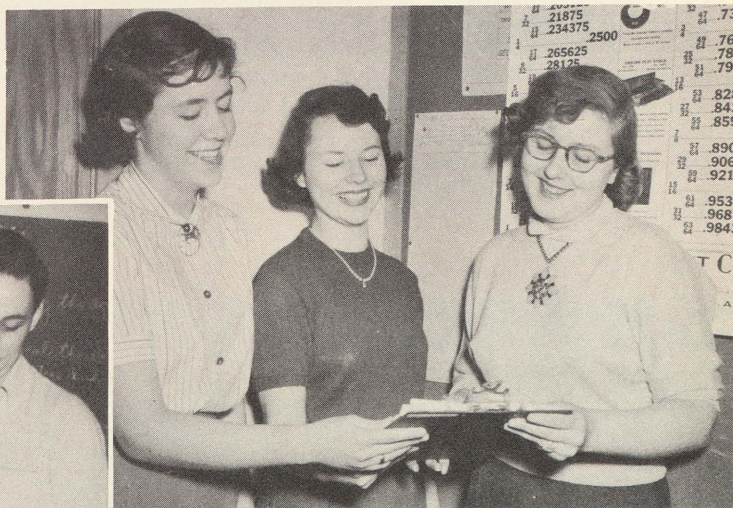

During the sophomore and junior years boys and girls alike study art of living which includes orientation, manners, budgeting, and vocational guidance. Mr. David Gainey demonstrates the proper way to tie a tie to John Becker. Larry Schrock and Ken Specht get a few tips, also.

Vocational guidance is an important project undertaken in sophomore art of living. Arlee Ann Rosenberg and Hallie Watson check their references. Sue Wynne, Mary Bohnoff, Janice Vollmer, and Sharon Tessman write up their findings from their notes.

Future Teachers of America Club offers tips on the profession. A trip to Central Michigan College to visit the training school and a tea invitation from a local teachers' sorority encourage those looking to teaching. Jean Irving, Judith Holland, and Nancy Case signed up for the trip.

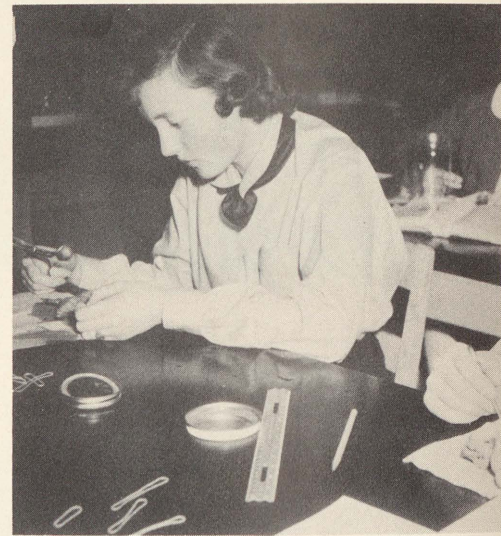

Business trends, problems, and operations are studied for one semester in economics class. Mr. Bryant Wilson explains a theory to Edwina Blue, Joanne Elliott, Eugene Jutzi, and Art Keith.

Biology, physics, chemistry, agriculture, and homemaking are the classes offered in the science curriculum. The clubs of this department provide many hours of after school enjoyment. Mr. A. G. Dersch is Science Department Head.

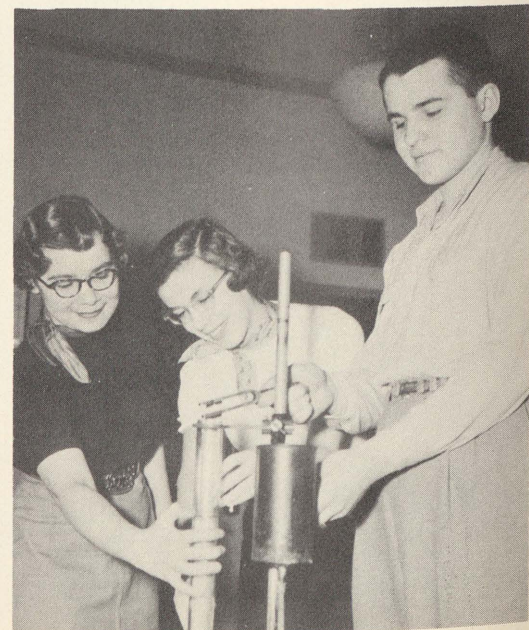

Future Farmers of America Club members examine their honor award, the De Kalb Plaque. This award is given to the outstanding senior agriculture student each year in the awards assembly. Carl Rossman is club reporter; Tom Lampel, secretary; Jerry Halm, treasurer; Mr. Howard H. Lytle, adviser; Bob Bowden, reporter; Eugene Budd, vice-president; Don Turner, president, and Harry Brooks, vice-president.

Biology includes the study of animal and plant life. Sue Kessel examines a dissected frog during a laboratory period.

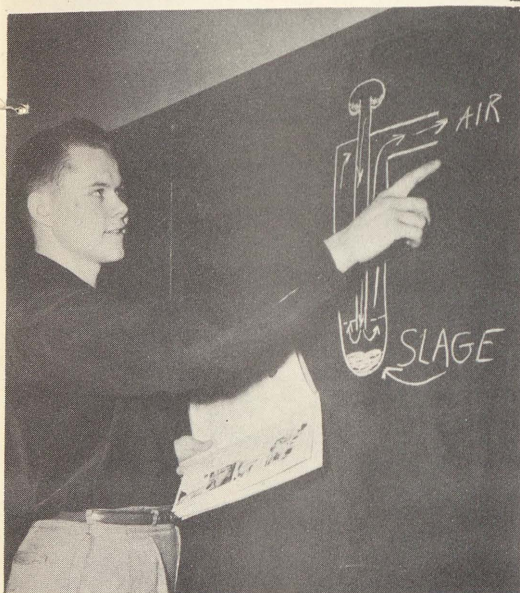

Alchemists is an honorary club for girls in chemistry classes. In home and school meetings, Barbara Gierow, vice-president; Lois Congrove, president; and Pat Boyle, secretary-treasurer, preside as officers.

In physics Angelo Suino, Doreen Staley, and John Schwinck try an experiment with a resonating tube to better understand the principles of sound.

Biology Club officers review their study of the frog. The club work offers opportunity for nature hikes and special study reports. Dee Galonska is secretary; Nancy Bailey, president; Marilyn Heath, treasurer; and Arnold Ruskin, vice-president.

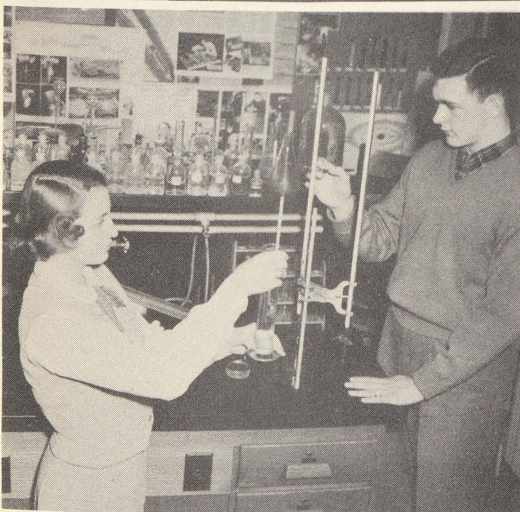

Senior agriculture students conduct their own class. Carl Rossman demonstrates the principle of the oil bath air cleaner on tractors to his class.

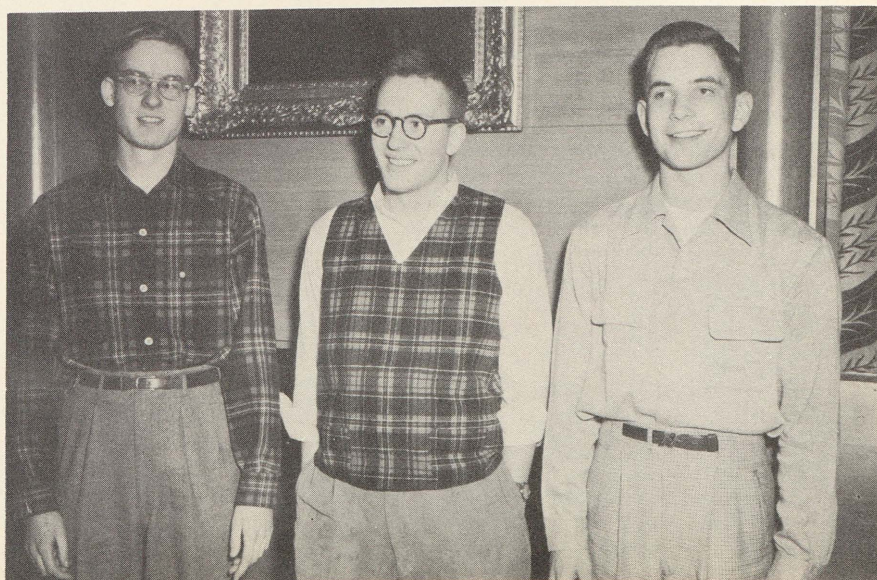

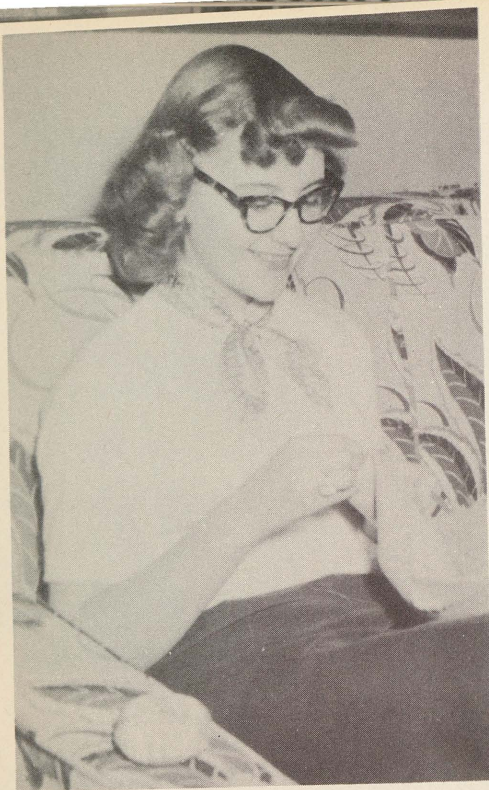

Eugene Budd is the 1953 outstanding senior in the agriculture classes. Eugene received the DeKalb Award in assembly.

Crucibles Club membership honors boys who excel in chemistry. Hans Hennecke is president; John Barsch, secretary-treasurer; and Dick Hausler, vice-president.

In chemistry Sandra Van Derstein and Ronald Lange conduct experiments amid an array of bottles and test tubes of the laboratory section of the chemistry rooms.

Homemaking students learn to sew, cook, and care for a home with grace and efficiency. Ann Lalonde hems a dish towel for a practical gift.

In Future Nurses Club talks on nursing, trips to industrial plants, and doing a play for the Saginaw Medical Society Auxiliary were led by Roberta Raupp, secretary; Janice Barth, vice-president; and Kerin Schrader, president. The poster typifies their dreams.

Future Homemakers enjoy a mother-daughter tea, parties with the Future Farmers of America, and sponsoring a candy sale during the year. They also participate in regional, state, and national conventions. Mary Rodeitcher, treasurer; Dorothy Vasey, secretary; Gale Kleinert, vice-president; and Jean Fetherolf, president, discuss plans for the next meeting.

Interior decorating students learn to choose furniture and fabrics for a home. Effective room arrangement and family comfort is their goal. Mrs. Helen Beyer inspects the work that Joann Heasty does on a dressing table.

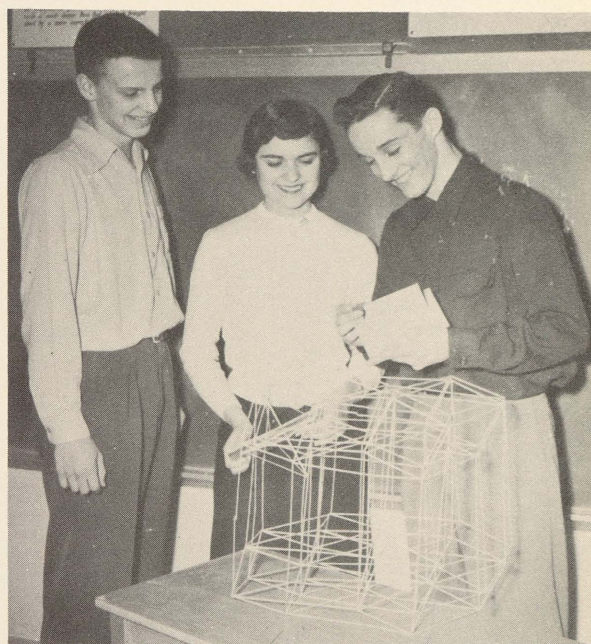

Solving mathematics problems takes up the major part of the Pythagoreans' activities. Judy Prining is treasurer; Gerry Herbert, vice-president for the first semester; Dick Hausler, second semester president; Kerin Schrader, secretary; Hans Hennecke, first semester president; and seated, Fred Ahlborn, second semester vice-president.

With the increased interest in mathematics as an elective, two clubs—one of them new this year—are now active at Arthur Hill.

In addition to algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, and trigonometry, student interest turns to advanced math through the Pythagoreans Club, which alternates discussions with proofs of advanced theories. The JETS, a new club, helps students to develop their interests in the various fields of engineering.

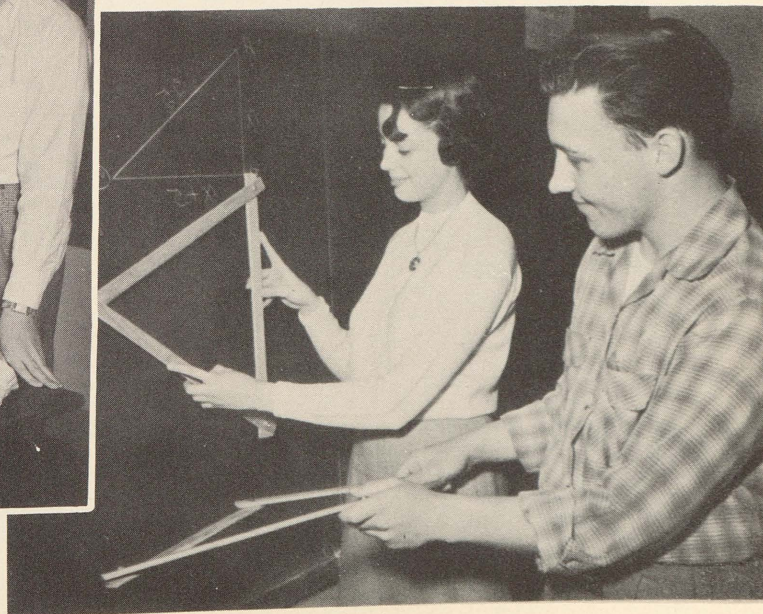

With a total of 683 students enrolled in mathematics courses at Arthur Hill, 476 are on college math courses and 207 are taking refresher arithmetic.

Paul Klempnow explains to Jim Righter and Donelda Turner the structure of a solid with which the study of solid geometry deals.

In algebra Janet Smith and Don Persons study a formula dealing with a right triangle. Algebra is a course in generalized mathematics.

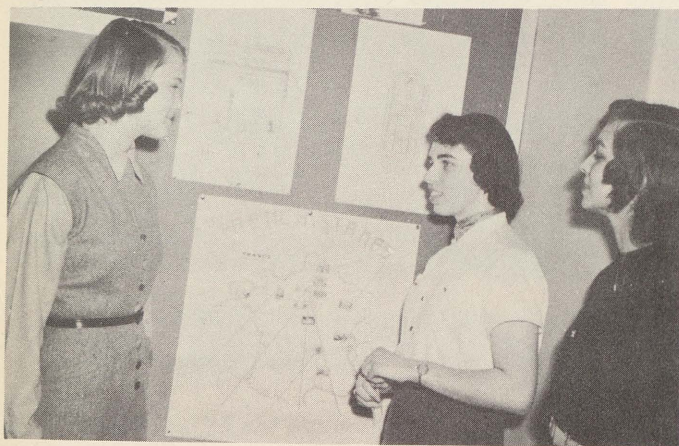

JETS interests engineering minded students. Initial officers elected are—Sallie Slocum, secretary; Arnold Ruskin, president; Charles Murdock, treasurer; and Dale Thiel, vice-president.

The Latin, French, German, and Spanish classes offered at Arthur Hill help students to achieve a broadened international outlook. Languages open the door to the appreciation of people and culture of other countries which is so essential today in attaining world harmony and peace. The department head is Miss Gertrude Turner.

Jim Hempstead shows Donna Hall points of interest in the tour of Paris by post-card that he has prepared for his French class project.

Le Cercle Francais strives to further interest in the picturesque French language, civilization, and culture. Members learn of French fashions and trends from a Parisian magazine, Elle. The traditional pom-pom sale for the Turkey Day game helped to finance the club's projects. Treasurer Barbara Gierow, president Gwen Brockless, and secretary Marilyn Heath look over French class projects for possible program ideas. Vice-president Dee Galonska is missing from the picture.

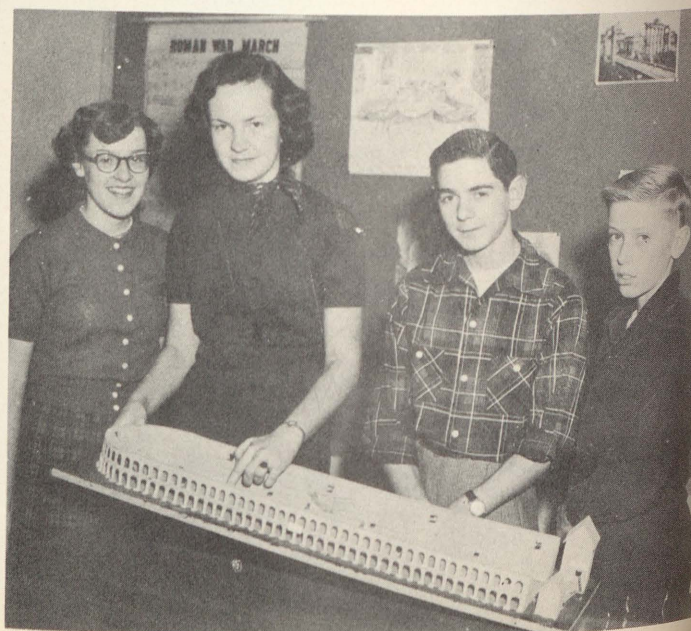

The silver key of the Junior Classical League was presented to Margaret Mark for outstanding service to the Latin Club. Jean Pettycrew received the France-Amerique medal awarded to the outstanding French student. The award is based on club participation, class work, and a national examination.

Outstanding in Latin Club is its unusual system of rank, based on the several classes of Roman society. Members must earn points in order to advance. The officers, point chairman Marilyn Downer, treasurer Carol McMacken, vice-president Pat Langdon, point chairman Angela Suino, president Joan Randall, and secretary Kerin Schrader begin preparation for the rank raising ceremony under the direction of club sponsor Miss Gertrude Turner.

Latin students make projects to supplement their class work. Donna Smith points out the row of seats in the Circus Maximus project as Arlene Beehler, Allen Pike, and Jack Galsterer look on. The Roman War March and other Roman pictures form an appropriate background for the Latin classes.

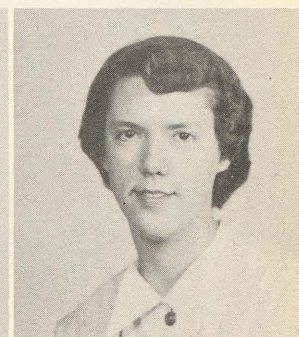

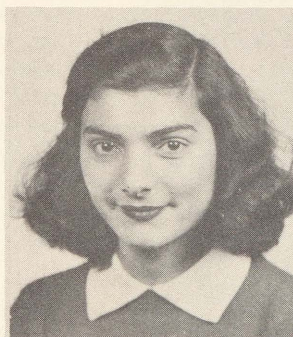

Flower booths, Spanish style, featured colorful carnations at the Sombrero Swing. The Spanish Club is host at this all-school dance. Selecting flowers are Nelson Thomas and Rachel Tiedke.

Spanish Club sponsors the Sombrero Swing, a seasonal party for the benefit of needy Mexican children, and enjoys movies that give background for their study. Vice-president Nila Harmony, first semester treasurer Diane Gilbert, first semester president Delores Arriaga, point chairman Doreen Staley, second semester president Janet Vogel, and second semester treasurer Rachel Tiedke discuss their plans for the year.

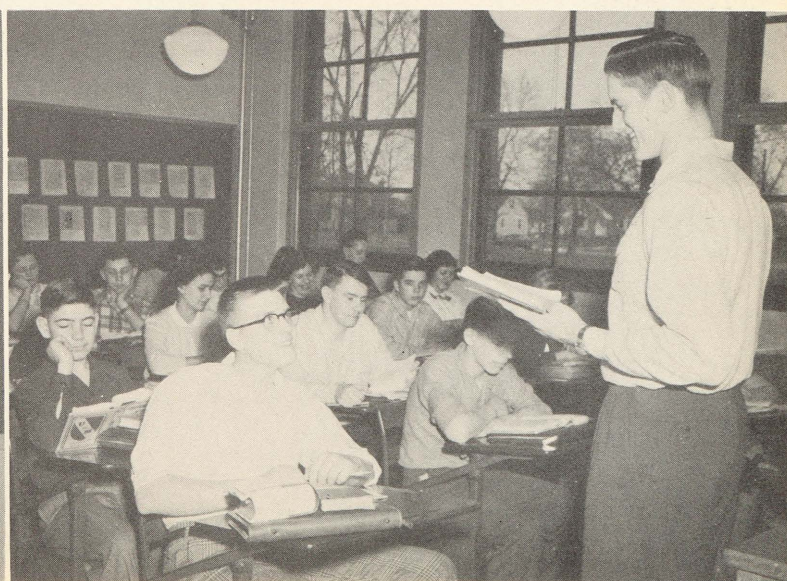

Marian Cesar, Mabel Delaney, and Diane Gilbert won medals awarded by the Hispanic Society for excellence in second year Spanish. The girls were honored at the Awards assembly last April.

In Spanish classes Nancy Rupprecht, Jerry Hoffman, Dale Hanson, and Doreen Staley use their knowledge of the language to read Spanish literature. Students use sight, ear, and record repetition with first year work. Vocabulary and conversation are stressed in advanced Spanish.

In German class students looking to science and travel careers master the difficult script and vocabulary. The special project for the year was group caroling at Christmas. Don Bruns, class chairman, listens to John Rider as he tells of his experiences in Germany where he lived for two years.

Art entries winning prizes in the Woman's Club regional exhibit and judging, were the work of Anna Mae Willard, Wynifred Riser, and Joan Forbes. Mrs. Virginia H. Siehr is their instructor.

Marialyce McGinnis and Lorraine Parks draw their perspective of the hall, LeRoy Martin seeks a different angle.

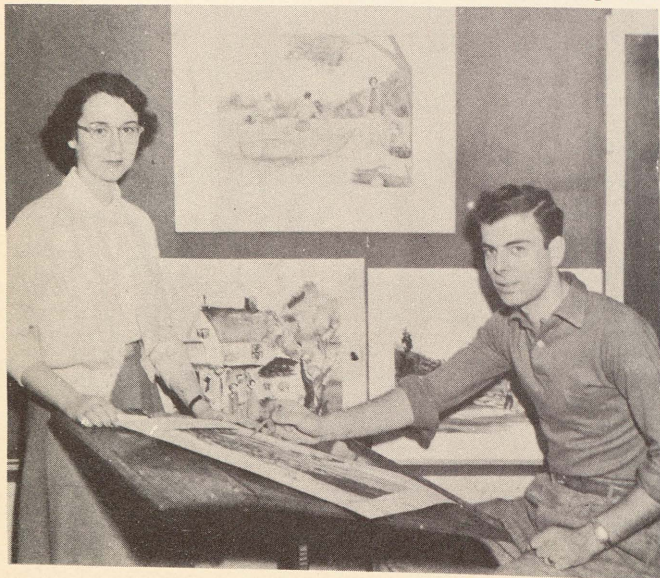

Jim Luplow and Don Zastrow fill out blanks for the entry of their tempera paintings in the National Scholastic Art Awards contest. Products of their work show in the background.

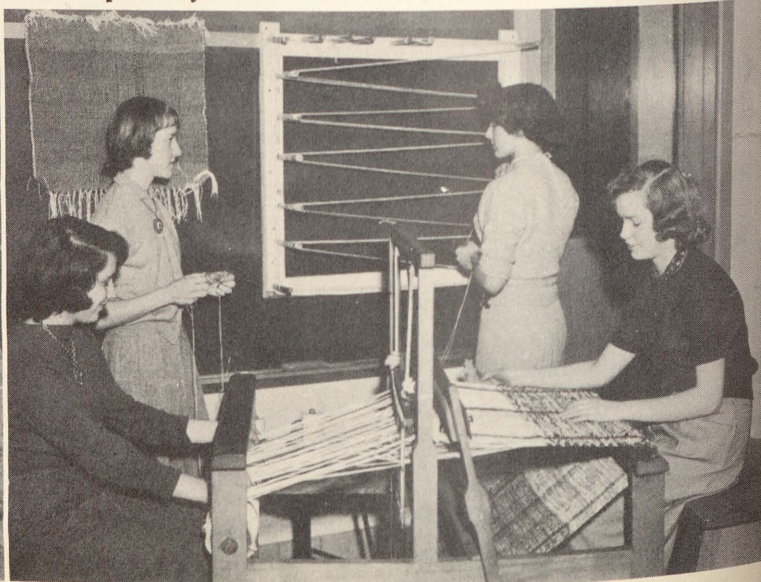

Arts and crafts students support all school activities with their talents. They decorate the halls with attractive posters to advertise school events, trim the Christmas tree, construct scenery for dramatic productions, arrange displays in the corridor show cases, assist Red Cross and other civic enterprises and keep the school informed on the latest in art.

Much of their work is submitted to various local, state, and national competition for grading through the department head, Mrs. Virginia H. Siehr and Miss Eleanor Bangham, City Art Supervisor.

Joan Forbes and Jack Otter entered oil paintings in the National Scholastic Art Award contest. They received results of their rating in May through the art issue of Scholastic Magazine.

In crafts class Jerry Donnenwerth, Joan Stark, Beverly Jones, and Janet Dammann weave their rugs. This class project was completed by all of Mr. Earl Mitchell's students.

Jean Miller looks at some of the Christmas favors made by the art classes before they were sent to the boys in Korea. Jean played an important part in making these favors.

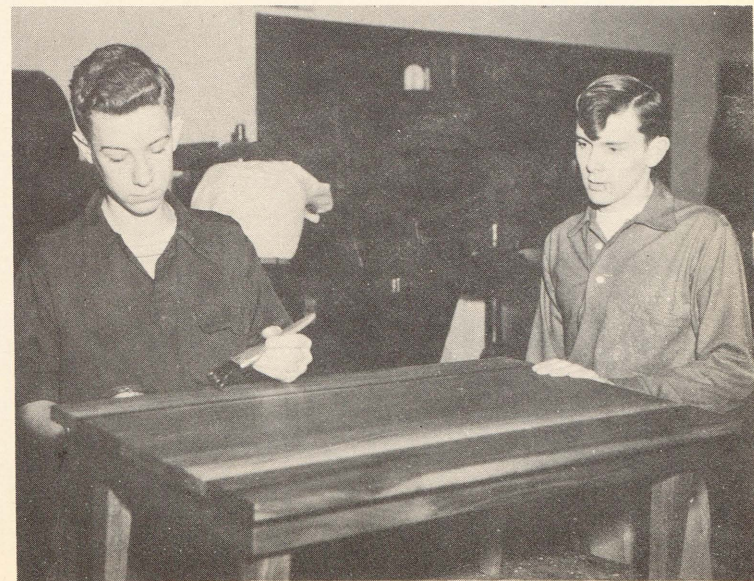

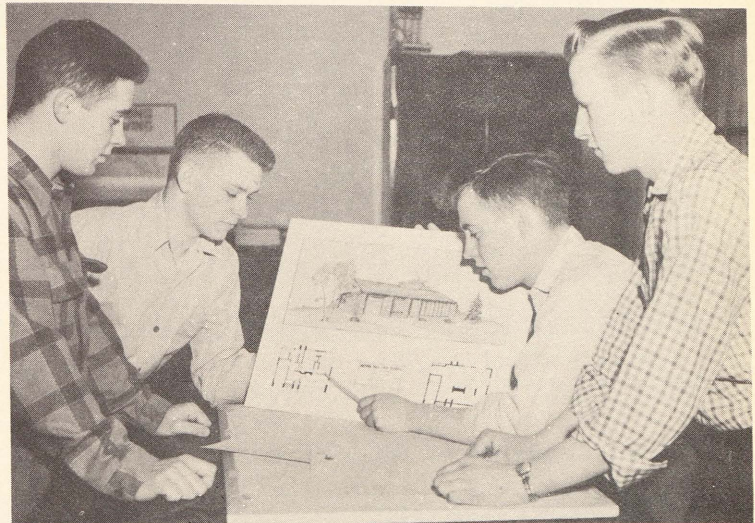

Elaine Storch, Bonnie Streeter, and Sandra Benkert adjust one of the Christmas decorations that were hung in the art room.

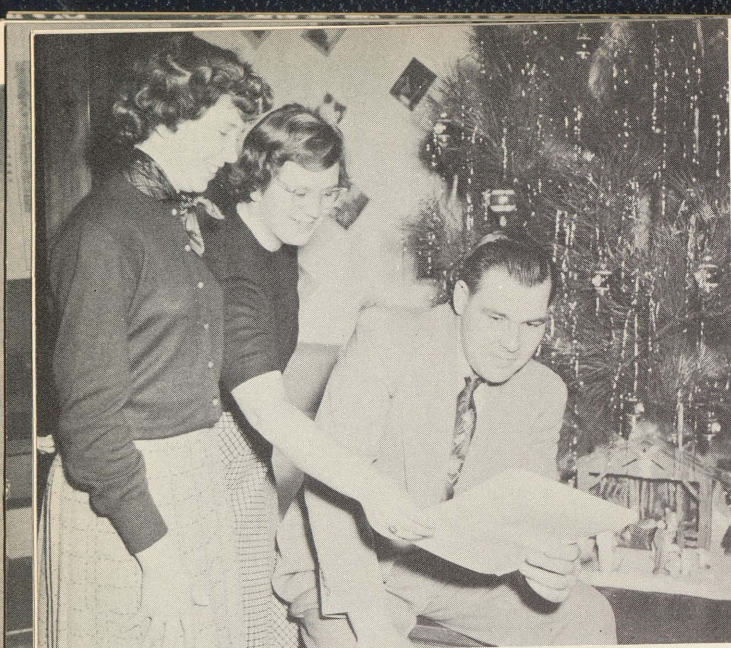

Gerald Kessel points out the floor design for a house he planned in Mr. A. A. Pieritz's mechanical drawing class. Richard Hahn, Leonard Zorn, and Ronald Clark listen as Gerald explains the plan to them.

Jerry Martin puts the finishing touches on the table he built in Mr. Robert Barringer's shop class. Marcus Trea tests the finish.

Joyce Benkert, Darlene Welch, and Warren Herring admire one of the many pictures sent by the Junior Red Cross from all corners of the world. The distribution of these paintings promotes international understanding and goodwill.

Co-op Club members Gail Woolgar and Mary Ann Rodeitcher get advice from Mr. Raymond Hartman, coordinator in retailing.

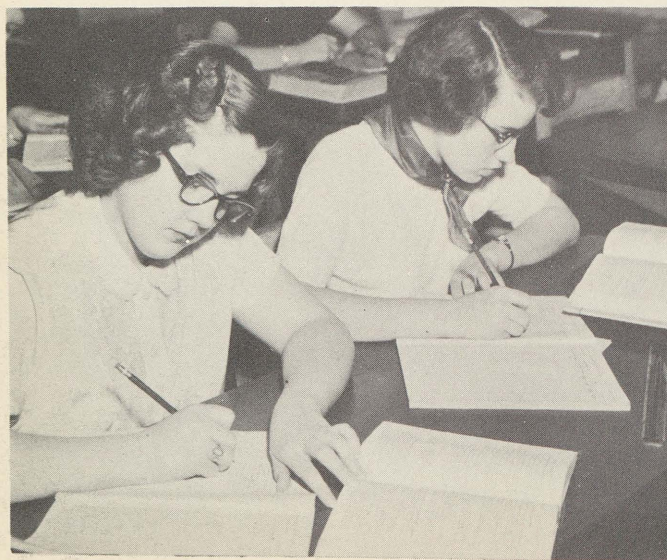

Outstanding students of Retail Co-op and Office Training Co-op have their names engraved on an honor plaque. Diane Harmon and Yvonne Petre were honored last year.

Retailing students study the principles of advertising and salesmanship in all its phases to prepare themselves for the business world. Merchants of Saginaw take pride in lending material for the displays. Getting practical experience in arranging window displays is Cleo Beem.

Beatrice Scott and Lois Weber are working on their practice bookkeeping sets which are graded at the end of a semester.

Office machines are the problem of Barbara Johnson, Irene Schiefer, and Doris Geyer. Business concerns large and small require machine operation knowledge.

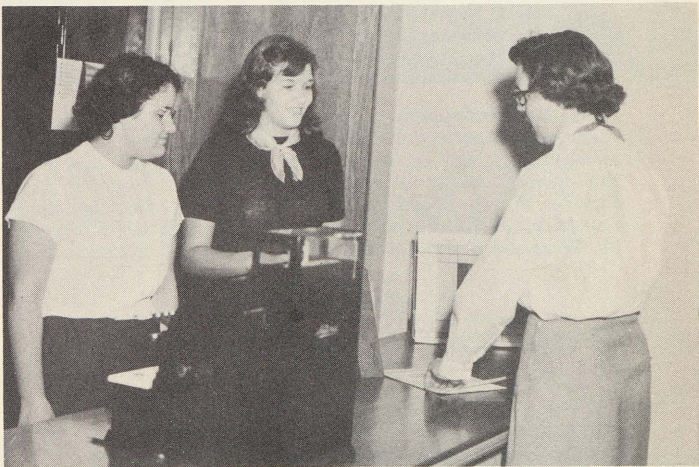

Hillite Co-op Club is composed of retailing and office training students. Buying an opaque projector for the audio-visual department with the profits of their money-making activities proved a school service. Officers are—standing: Alice Bauer, program chairman; Ruth Blosser, secretary; and seated: Barbara Mann, vice-president, and Ruth Chartrand, president. There are three classes in retailing totaling sixty-eight students among whom are forty occupational trainees and fifteen part time workers. The other students take the course out of interest only. The sixty-three Christmas trainees enrolled in ten special session courses in November. Forty of these found jobs over the holidays.

Taking dictation in shorthand from Mrs. Hazel Gunther are Sue Stamm and Cairl Modrall. Monthly Gregg standard tests are given to shorthand and transcription classes to determine and encourage speed and efficiency.

In typing class Mr. Robert Shorney looks over the work of Anita Butterfield. Typists are constantly achieving new goals in speed, rhythm, and accuracy to acquire professional standards.

Student Store features school supplies. Carol Benway, Lenore Brennen, and Yvonne Ballard are among attendants who are on duty during fourth hour under the direction of Mr. Raymond Hartman.

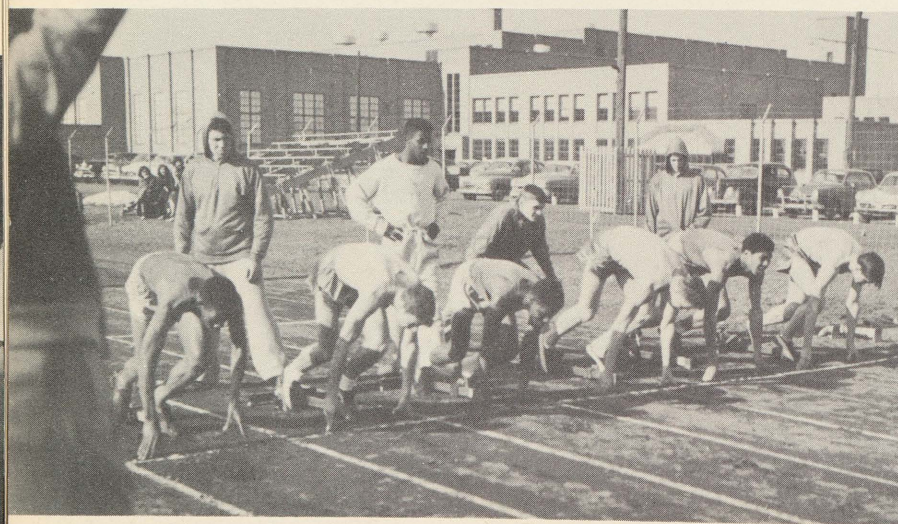

Football Homecoming. In preparation, the student body chooses their queen, crowns her in assembly, dines her before the game, and presents her on the field to lettermen past and present. In the queen's court were Pauline Catrain, Barbara Armstrong, Phyllis Ward, Marilyn Little, Attendant Bonnie Niederstadt, Queen Ruth Schultz, Attendant Pauline Nichols, Margaret Bueker, Marjorie Sting, Dorothy Thompson, and Marilyn Heath.

Get set. Muscles tense as the starter raises his gun to start the high hurdles in a dual track meet with Flint Northern.

Surprise! Nelson Thomas, the 1954 swimming captain, receives his letter from Coach David A. Gainey. Those seated at the table are Mr. Frank Walsh, sports director of Radio Station WBCM, Bay City, and Coach Matt Mann of the University of Michigan. Mr. Mann is also American Olympic Swimming Coach.

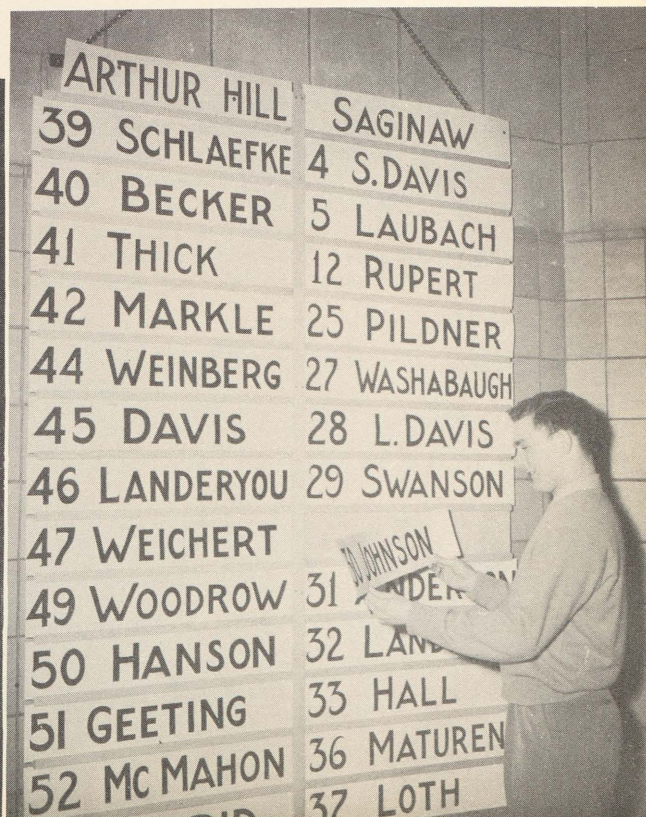

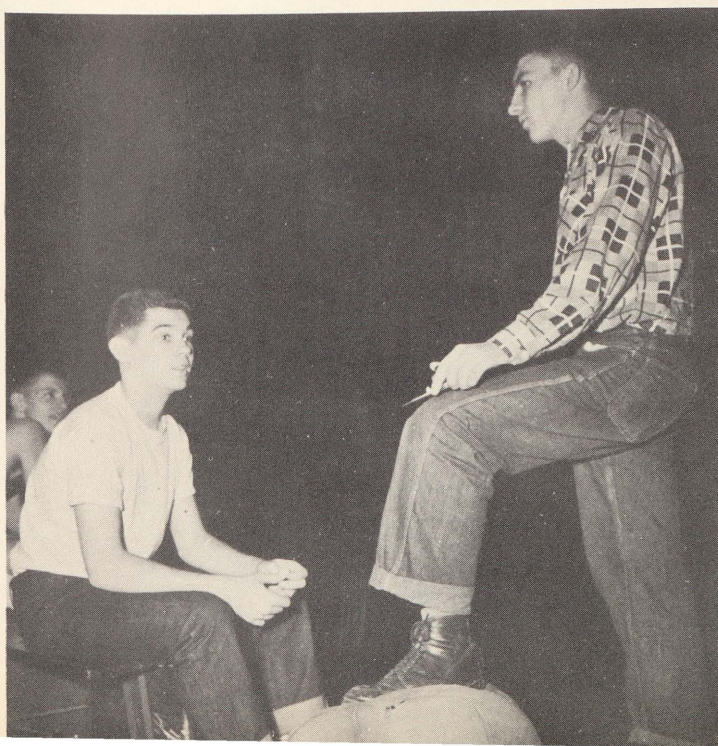

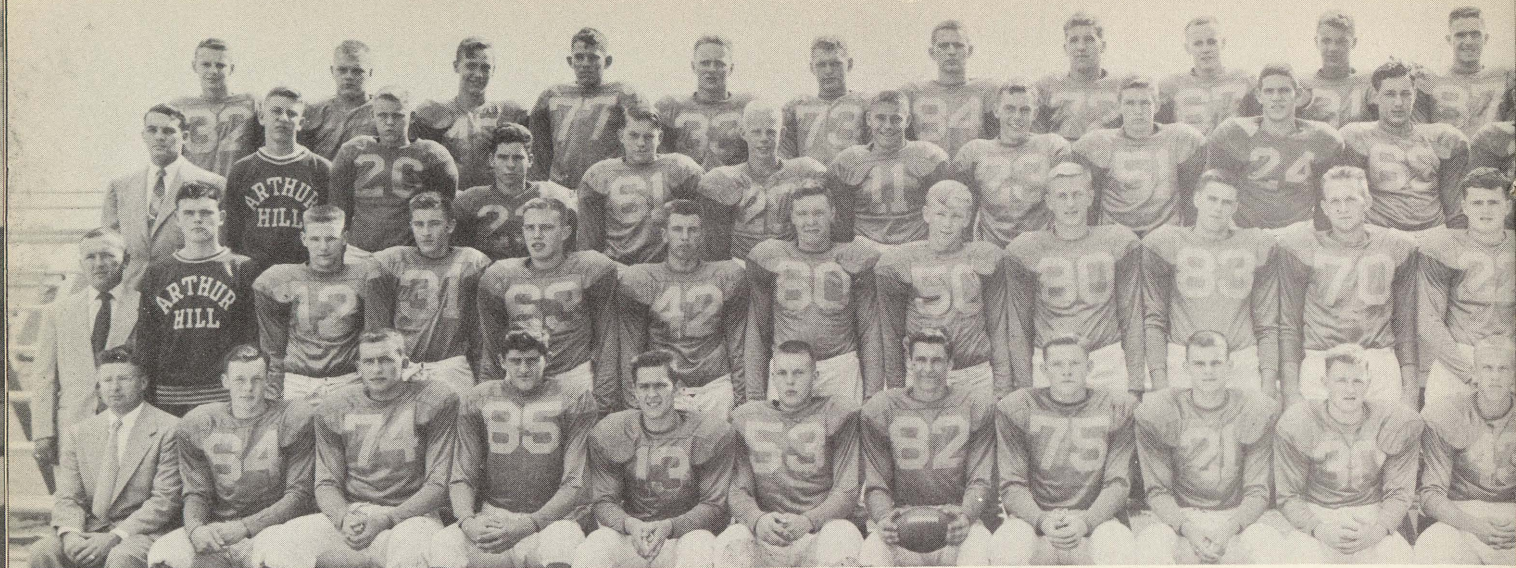

Yea Team! Yell is the password of these eight Hillites chosen to lead the cheering at all pep sessions and games. Cheerleaders are Captain Bonnie Niederstadt, Shirley Jones, Jane Dupree, Barbara Mann, Sue Stamm, Marjorie Sting, Janice Michalski, and Dolores Durham.

Relax. Basketball managers Don McGlaughlin and Kelly Hendricks take a minute to look around the gym before the start of one of Arthur Hill's home basketball games.

Who's who? The lineup for the Arthur Hill-Saginaw High basketball game is posted by Ron Lange on the new board that furnished fans with the names and numbers of all the players on both squads.

Blue jerseys, maize pants, and plastic helmets of the new varsity uniforms made an impressive sight as the squad came on the field for the 1952 football season.

The Hillites finished the season with a record of four wins and five defeats. The teams bowing to the Blue and Gold were Lansing Eastern, Pontiac, Midland, and Saginaw High.

The high spot of the season came in the Turkey Day game with Arthur Hill behind 12 to 7 and two minutes to play. The big moment came when Russ Luplow threw 32 yards to captain Vic Landeryou for a touchdown. Art Engle kicked the extra point to give Arthur Hill a 14 to 12 victory.

Junior Varsity football boys played an undefeated season of seven wins and one tie.

Players outstanding in varsity action included:

Jim Markle: Although only five foot seven, Jim played a lot of ball for the Hillites at his offensive fullback position.

Captain Victor Landeryou: Vic played both offensive and defensive end.

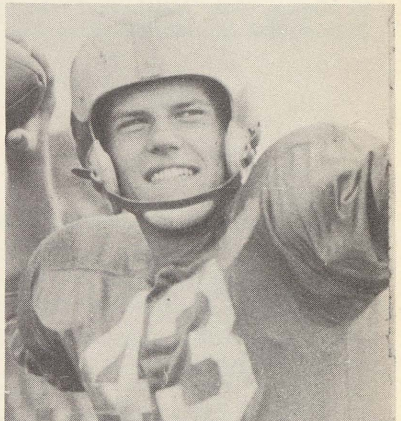

Russell Luplow: As a letterwinner for three years, Russ played safety defensively and saw service as an offensive halfback.

Don Birnbaum: "Tonto", as he is known to the fellows, played at tackle defensively. His play won him a spot on the All-Valley team.

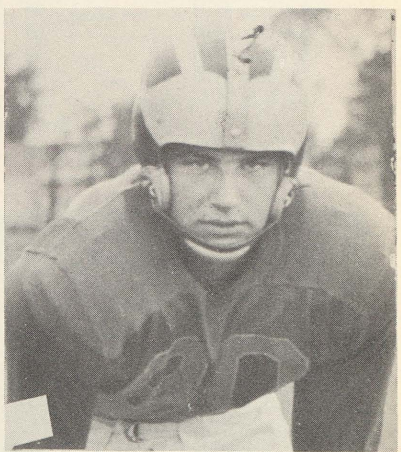

Don Wiechert: Don played both offensive and defensive halfback. His defensive play earned him a spot on the All-Valley squad.

Phillip Serrin: Phil, linebacker on defensive and center on offensive, kept the single-wing attack moving with his consistent playing.

Dale Hanson: "Satch", as he is better known, did such a fine job at line-backer and offensive quarterback that his team mates elected him captain for the 1953 season.

Valley champion basketball team members were victorious in twelve games and dropped three during the 1952-53 season under the coaching of Mr. Charles Fowler. Their record of eight wins and two defeats in valley play enabled them to tie Flint Northern for the valley title, but they suffered an upset at the hands of Bay City Central in their first tournament game.

Senior players—Bob Becker: Bob, forward, led the Hills in the scoring department and was the second leading scorer in the Valley. Bob's play earned him a spot on the All-State third team as well as a starting berth on the All-Valley squad.

Orrin Geeting: Orrin, a 6'2" center, jumped to get a great number of rebounds for the Hillites.

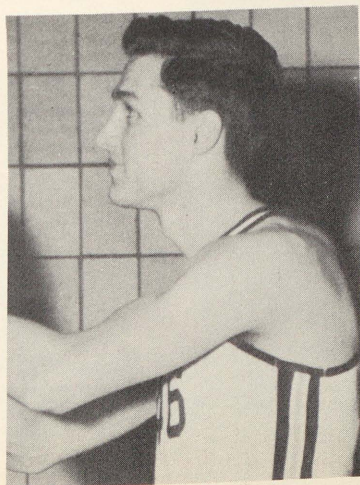

Vic Landeryou: Vic's consistent play and fine rebound work gave him a chance to see continuous action throughout the season.

Don Weichert: "A jack of all trades" might well be the title given to Don. He played every position on the team, being number one reserve.

Swimmers added their ninth valley championship since 1942. These Hillite mermen won nine meets and dropped one in continuing to reign over the valley swimming teams. In the state meet they placed senior Herb Schmidt, first; sophomore Gene Sauer, second; and junior Gale Fox, fourth in the diving event. Squad seniors were:

Captain Don Wade: Captain Don is a freestyler and letter winner for three years, his specialty is the 200-yard free style. He is also high point man among seniors with 51 points.

John Barnett: John is a backstroker. He scored 23 points during the season.

Don Brady: Don is a freestyler and swam on the freestyle relay team to earn 24 points.

Jerry Doyle: Jerry swam the individual medley for Arthur Hill and collected 26 points.

Harry Hawkins: Harry's star performance came in his junior year when he was a member of a freestyle relay team that set a national high school record for the 400-yard freestyle relay.

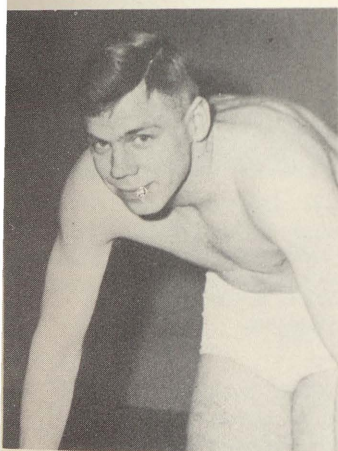

John Kemp: John, a backstroker, was often seen swimming backstroke in the medley relay.

Herb Schmidt: Herb earned the title of the best high school diver in Michigan by capturing a first place in the 1953 state meet.

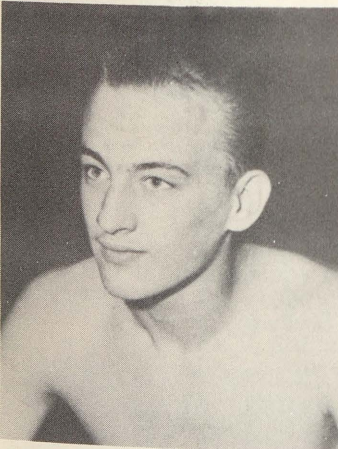

George Weber: George swam the 200-yard freestyle race and was a letter winner for three years.

To win the city championship the 1952 Hill net men closed their season with a record of four wins against eight defeats. Two of the wins were over Saginaw High. This gave the Hills possession of the Hugh C. Spence Tennis Cup, an award given for the city recreation department.

Arthur Hill's cross-country team members ended their season with a record of three wins against two defeats. Victories were posted over Flint Central, Flint Northern and Bay City Handy. They placed third in the valley, and twelfth in the state meet. With only four seniors on this year's squad Coach Glenn Mason and his 1953-54 harriers should make a good showing.

Sophomore Duane Thon catches at batting practice as veteran pitcher Ron Lange takes his turn at bat in preparation for the opening game with Flint Northern.

For the second annual intramural basketball finals, the winner of the north half of the building, Mrs. Frances Hamlin's advisory boys, and the winner of the south half, Mrs. June O'Dell's advisory team, clashed in an all-school assembly, March 11, amid all the fanfare imaginable. The boys of Mrs. O'Dell's advisory won by the score of 36 to 22. High point player was Bob Plater with 15 points. The intramural program for the 1952-53 season was under the direction of secretary Warren Marx and a board of directors made up of Jerry St. Clair, Dale Mertz, Don Dezelsky, Kelly Hendrick, and Bill Morris. The officials for the final game were Tom Lampel and George Dice.

The Champions. Boys of Mrs. O'Dell's advisory won seven straight games in winning the school intramural basketball championship for the 1952-53 season. Leading the O'Dell advisory in the final game was Bob Plater with 15 points. Team members Top Row: "Coach" O'Dell, Bob Newman, Jerry Mead, Bob Plater. Front Row: Bill Plater, Bob McDonald, Mike McFarland, and LeRoy Martin.

Boys of Mrs. Frances Hamlin's advisory were led by Dick Gunther with 11 points. This team won 6 games to become a finalist. Team members—Top Row: Jim Hempstead, Jerry Herbert, Jerry Halm, Ron Herman, "Coach" Hamlin. Front Row: Dick Gunther, Don Gunther, and John Hilbrandt.

Checking the score sheet of one of the eight teams that bowl at Parkland Lanes on Thursday afternoons is president Carol Rice and vice-president Gail Harris. The "Hatch-a-Batch" team, led by Elaine Snellenberger, won the trophy for the first semester.

Careful aim is taken by Carl Weiss and president Dave Smith, members of the Rifle Club. The club shoots twice a week in the range located in the basement of the school. The boys are supervised and trained in the safe use of firearms by Mr. Duane Maas.

Boys' Bowling Club is a new organization this year and meets on Saturdays at the Moose bowling alleys. Treasurer Don Nuerminger, sponsor Mr. Raymond Hartman, secretary Dick Hummel, and president Jerry Hoffman check records for winners. The "Holy Rollers" with captain Jerry Hoffman led the league for the first semester.

Letter girls numbered 20 this year. These girls earned 200 points in intramural sports participation in volleyball, basketball, and baseball. They receive 50 points for each sport and 10 extra points if their team wins the championship. Letterwinners—Top Row: Sally Herm, Myra Zeilinger, Delores Storch, Charlene Campbell, and Kay Archangeli. Second Row: Pat Langdon, Carolyn Brown, Barbara Trinklein, Barbara Hayes, Janice Gnatkowski, and Marjorie Sowatsky. Front Row: Susan Haft, Lillian Szarenski, Coach Mary Margaret Doidge, Merle Holland, and Joan Heasty.

Capturing the girls' volleyball championship by defeating all opponents in a straight elimination schedule was team 4. Runners-up to the champs was team 8 who was defeated 23 to 21. Dividing the girls into teams and scheduling the games which are played after school was done by Miss Mary Margaret Doidge, coach. Team 4 members—Top Row: Barbara Johnson, Ruth Berkobein, Janice Dezelsky, Delores Storch, Ruth Ann Stringer, and Captain Merle Holland. Front Row: Janice Gnatkowski, Betty Zariski, and Janet Bolger.

Taking the basketball crown this year was team 4. The champions defeated team 1 by a straight elimination. This sport interested 60 girls of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes who were divided into six teams. Championship team—Top Row: Karen Marceills, Rosalia Bierd, Ruth Kellog, Gayle Reimold, and Captain Mary Mannion. Front Row: Marjorie Sowatsky, Merle Holland, and Janet Savage.

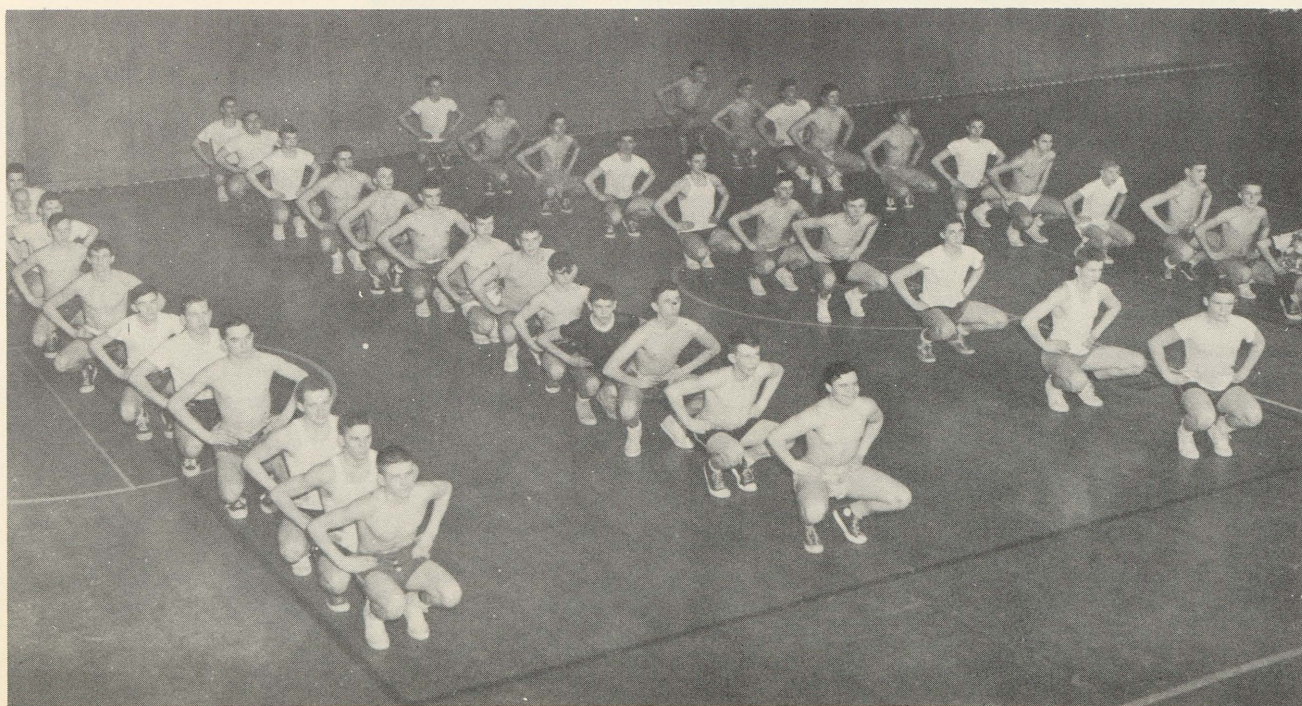

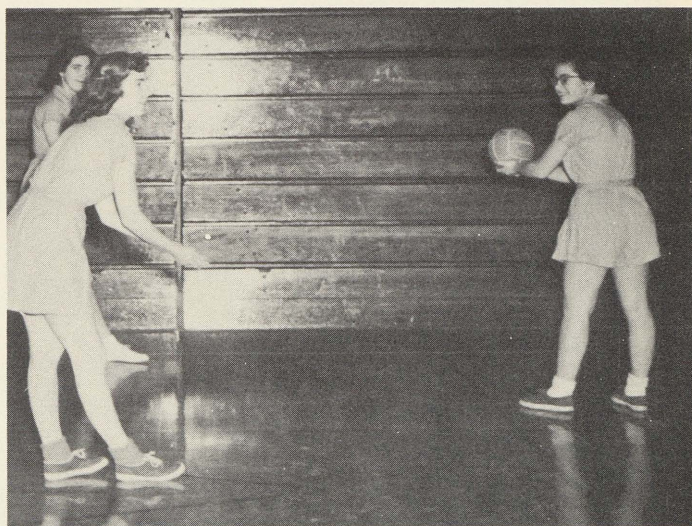

In girls' gymnasium classes a basketball tournament was run in behalf of those girls unable to participate in the after school contest. A schedule was played in the classes and the class champions competed to decide the champions of all the classes. Champs—Noreen Cottrell, Kay Archangeli, Norma Powers, Marjorie Sowatsky, Yvonne Purigroski, and Mary Ida Donovan.

Girls' junior and sophomore gymnasium classes participate in volleyball, basketball, and baseball as part of their physical education program. Exercises compose the rest of their class work. These classes meet on alternate days with art of living. Girls enjoying a game of volleyball are Jacqueline Boutin, Danija Abolins, and Barbara Beck.

Physical fitness courses help put the sophomore and junior boys in top condition. Taking part in the vigorous calisthenics are these sophomore boys from the third hour class. These classes meet on alternate days with art of living.

Third Honor Alumnus

William Holmes Doerfner '17 became the third Honor Alumnus of Arthur Hill High School at the Annual Honors Assembly, May 14. Mr. Doerfner is recognized for his outstanding leadership and forward look in industrial management and at the same time for his service in the social progress of his city, state and nation.

The Treanor Chapter of Quill and Scroll in behalf of Arthur Hill High School is proud to pay tribute to Mr. Doerfner as a great American who typifies the best in business stability, participation in public affairs, social respect, successful family life, and, most important, the proper attitude and philosophy toward life and its responsibilities.

Mr. Doerfner was presented with a certificate of service and leadership and his picture was hung in the community room where guests, honor students and their parents congratulated Mr. Doerfner during the reception that followed the ceremony.

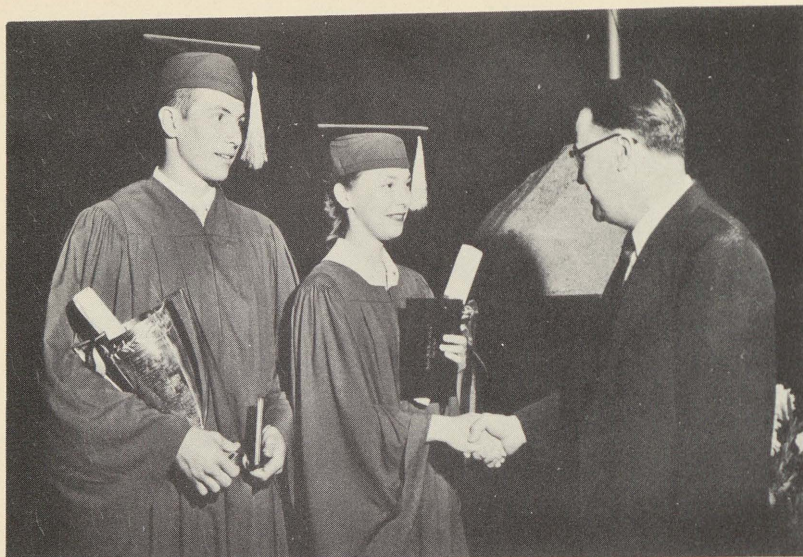

A pleased family joins Dr. Goodsell, the second Honor Alumnus, in the community room where students and parents have a chance to congratulate honor guests. Enjoying the honors along with Dr. Goodsell are his daughter, Janice Oeming; son, John Orton Jr.; wife, Mrs. Goodsell, his granddaughter, and his mother, Mrs. Augusta Goodsell.

Mr. Harry P. Baker '91, Arthur Hill's first Honor Alumnus, congratulates Dr. Goodsell '15, the second Honor Alumnus at the reception following the recognition ceremony. Each year an alumnus is selected and honored by Quill and Scroll Society at the Honors convocation.

Honor students and audience rise and applaud Dr. John Orton Goodsell '15, second Honor Alumnus selection, as he is paid tribute by Patricia Ashbaugh, representing Quill and Scroll society, at the Honor Assembly May 21, 1952. Honor seniors recognized for outstanding leadership, service, and scholastic achievement with membership in the National Honor Society were seated on the auditorium stage.

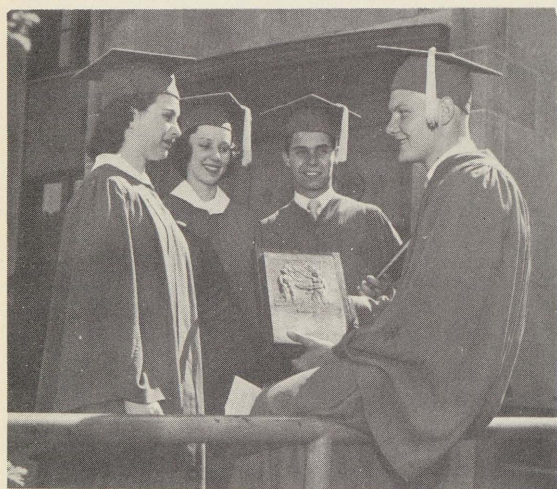

Best senior girl citizen, Ruth Schultz, was chosen by the 1953 graduating class and the faculty to receive the Daughters of American Revolution Good Citizen Award. She was elected for her dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

Receiving top senior honors commencement night John Adams, winner of the Ippel Cup, and Sally Bailey, winner of the Arthur Hill Scholarship, accept Principal I. M. Brock's congratulations.

Senior assembly honors went to Elfrieda Beyers, Barbara Roush, Robert Knox, and Carl Deiner. Elfrieda won the Alma College scholarship, Barb won the Daughters of American Revolution Good Citizen Award, Bob was honored with the Civitan Plaque for citizenship, and Carl won the University of Michigan Alumni Plaque for leadership and athletic ability.

Pat Ashbaugh and Arnold Ruskin, winners of the girls' and boys' Outstanding Sophomore awards, received their trophies at the 1952 Awards Assembly. Pat and Arnold were chosen for this honor by a faculty vote on the basis of scholarship, citizenship, leadership, and participation in extracurricular activities.

VFW essay contest winner, Jean Boch, receives her recognition from Mrs. Emma L. Buchanan, contest chairman of Post 1566 Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Jean's first place winner added $25 to the $15 won for second place in the same contest last year. The winning essay was one of the 900 written, on the subject "Democracy Is What You Make It." Jean's essay is now entered in the state contest. Marcelyn Tagget of Holy Family won second place, and Mary Lou Pohlman won third place.

Wolverine Girls' and Boys' State representatives included five Hillites—Allen Cronk, Don Weichert, Jean Boch, Orrin Geeting, and Sue Shorney. These seniors were sponsored by Civic Clubs in this training for their promise of leadership, scholarship and citizenship. Orrin Geeting was one of the two boys chosen in Michigan to go to Washington, D. C., to study federal government.

"S Wonderful" is Miss Bernice M. Francis' attitude toward teaching. When Miss Francis came to Arthur Hill in 1928, she became at once a valued member of the social science department. Always the student herself as well as the teacher she makes the road to knowledge smooth and pleasant to travel. She takes pleasure in sharing her experiences in study and teaching and her findings have proved valuable through her writing to both students and fellow teachers.

25 Years of Service to Arthur Hill

"Smiling Thru" after twenty-six years of service to the school is Miss Burnice Gibbs. Last year Miss Gibbs was honored at a dinner as the new member of the Twenty-five Year Club.

With a corsage and a small gift, Arthur Hill's faculty wished luck and bid farewell to Mrs. Betty Horton, Miss Patricia Jahnke, and Miss Lina Ward at the Twenty-five Year Club luncheon.

"You're The Tops"—Miss Ethel A. Peterson, dean and counselor, is tops. With dignity, warmth, and tact she reigns over the center office of the school. Her work cannot be definitely outlined any more than any day in her office; it depends on what is most important at the moment. Miss Peterson began her service at Arthur Hill as a sophomore English teacher where her leadership soon placed her in the chairmanship of that department. By 1940 recognition of her ability to understand and unravel problems and of her knack to uncover and make real the dreams of students, made Miss Peterson the ideal choice for Arthur Hill's dean and full time counselor.

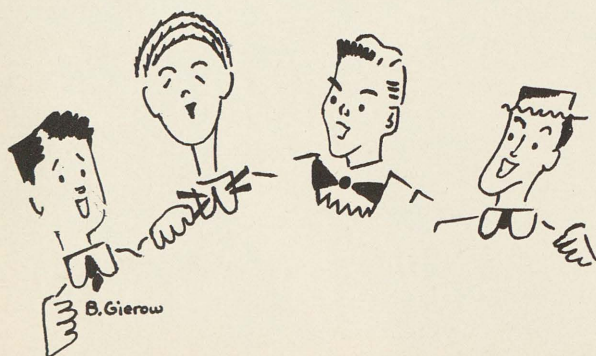

"On the Sunny Side of the Street" one will find Miss Mary F. Lewis, whose cheerful manner, wit, and understanding have endeared her to all. Her ingenuity and willingness to serve make Miss Lewis in demand for both student and faculty projects. During her years at Arthur Hill, she has been Language Department head, sophomore class adviser, and a member of the faculty advisory group and many committees. Perhaps Miss Lewis' greatest contribution is her interest and leadership in the development of the art of living course.

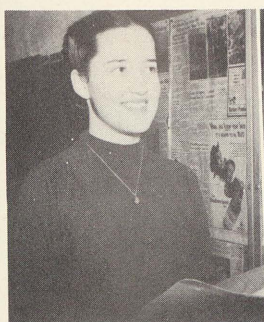

"Better Citizenship" is the theme song and ultimate goal of the work of Mr. Chester F. Miller, superintendent of Saginaw Public Schools. As organizer and adviser of the Junior Citizens' Council Mr. Miller confers with student representatives on the progress and responsibility of the group and the individual in each school group. Although most of his time is spent with the problems of personnel, organization, finance, and adequate housing of city schools, his every effort is guided by his interest in the student and helping that youth to be a better citizen.

The Ensemble

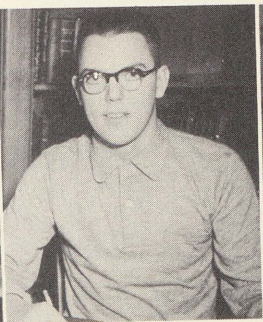

Each note in the score of the Arthur Hill symphony is an individual face! There are 1900 "notable" students and faculty members who are willing to "lend their voices" to help make each year a song. The seniors sing "lead" because of their experience but the sophomores, the juniors, and the faculty, are needed for group perfection.

The Grand Finale - Graduation

Senior Week marks the end of three years as Hillites. During their sophomore year they appeared as entertainers by starring in the sophomore play and the Sophomore Swing. During their junior year they ordered their class rings and began club leadership and starred in the play. The senior parade began with presidencies, thousand word themes, and priorities. The climax came with senior week . . . the caps and gowns . . . the last assembly . . . Vesper Services . . . and the senior dinner dance. The grand finale is graduating exercises in the Arthur Hill Memorial Stadium.

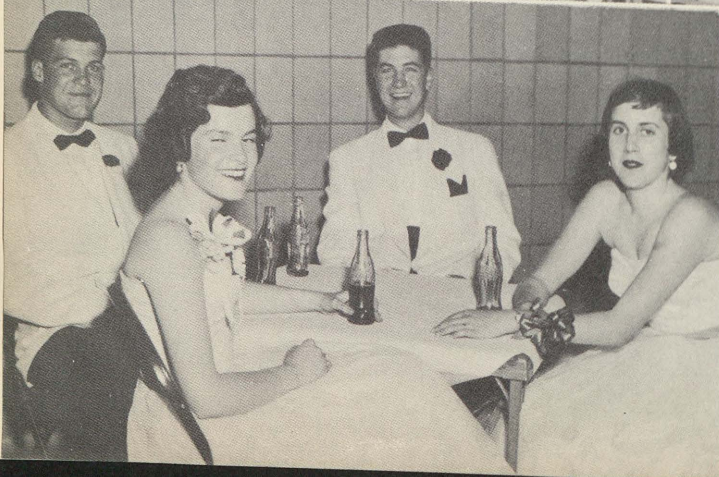

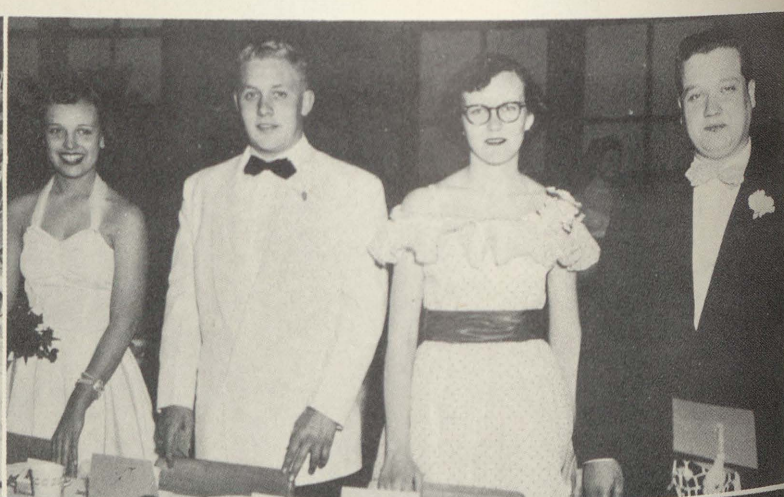

At the Senior Prom, the traditional garden walk arch is a popular photo motif. Sandy Meyers and Jack Alexander come into the picture as they enter the dance floor.

At the senior dinner, graduates and their guests are served by sophomore and junior girls. The art department sets the key note with clever decorations.

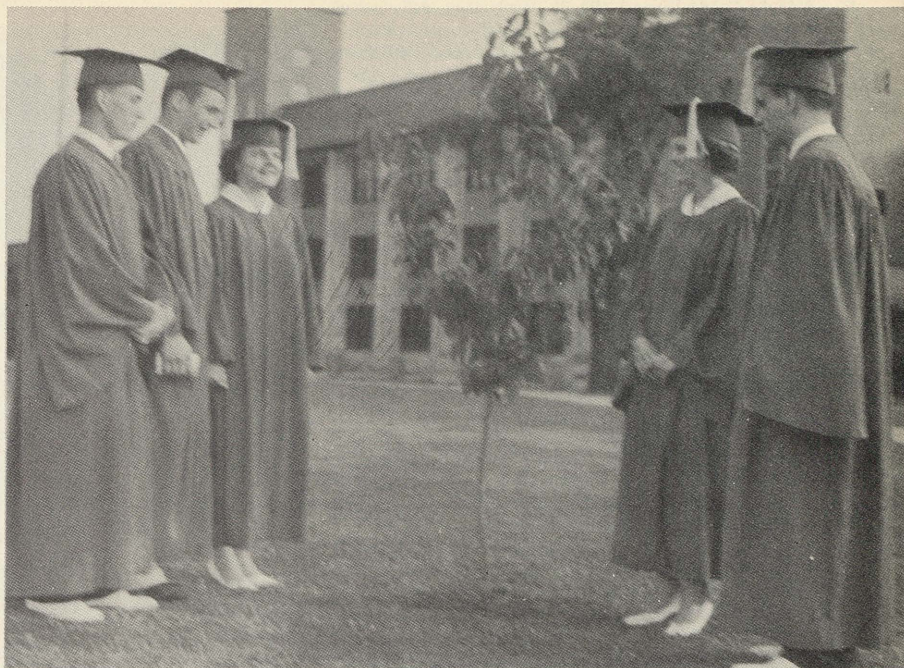

Judy Hart, George Stewart, Paul Kemp, and guest smile proudly as they await the dinner held in the school cafeteria before the senior prom.

Sitting out this one at the Prom are Richard Kackmeister, Thomsa Stewart, George Mauch and Roberta Rifkin.

Chairman of the program for the evening, Carl Deiner along with Phyllis Ward, Jack Hanson, and Barbara Guy led the grand march.

Seniors Tom Dezelsky, John Adams, Pat Conway, Miriam Bishop, Charles Grobe admire the first senior tree, planted as a new senior week tradition.

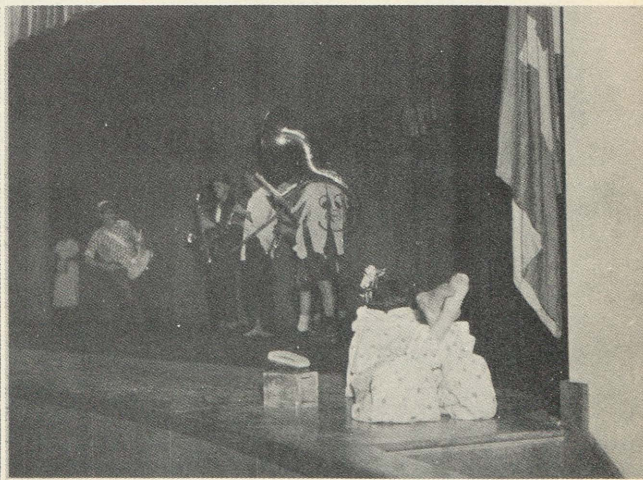

Measuring and ordering for caps and gowns takes place sometime in February. Caps and gowns are distributed the last class day for seniors when seniors buy the tassel as a remembrance of their graduation. Helping senior, Mike Severid, takes Phyllis Loesel's height as Don Dezelsky measures the cap size of Jean Irving.

1953 seniors wait with mixed emotions as they line up for the Vespers in the school auditorium. This is their last time to sit in the auditorium as members of the student body.

Seniors have their last assembly fling on Senior Day. They prove to underclassmen their prowess as entertainers. Jester Sue Warner leads the audience in approval of the playing of Bill Case's German Band.

Vespers the Sunday preceding graduation, is attended by parents and is a kind of thanksgiving for high school success and a dedication for the new step ahead. Dr. Henry W. Fisher, friend and local pastor, has led graduates in this service for over a quarter of a century.

Underclassmen

Sophomore Party chairman, Bob McDonald, is master of ceremonies. Each fall sophomores choose a representative from each advisory and with their class adviser, Miss Mary F. Lewis, organize their first get-together which has become a Halloween tradition. The committee of 56 sophomores chose Bob as their leader.

Committee chairman Carmen Brown and workers Ann Gossel, Mary Louise Hinds, and Penny LaFlair, admire the decorations for their party which is a get acquainted affair.

Onlookers take notice of Gene Sauers as he enjoys a game of ping-pong. Other games are provided for those interested and refreshments are served at the snack bar.

Students whose parents were graduated with the Class of '28 get acquainted. Their parents celebrate their 25th reunion this year. Top Row: Dick Day, Jerry Goodman, Sandra Wise, Dennis Hartner, Ruth Sheltraw, Ed Germain, and Nancy Jameson.

Second Row: Judy Kleinschmidt, Karen Kerns, Nancy Yarmuth, John Jeffords, Jackie Boutin, Pat Gunn, Nancy Kleinschmidt, and Judy Day.

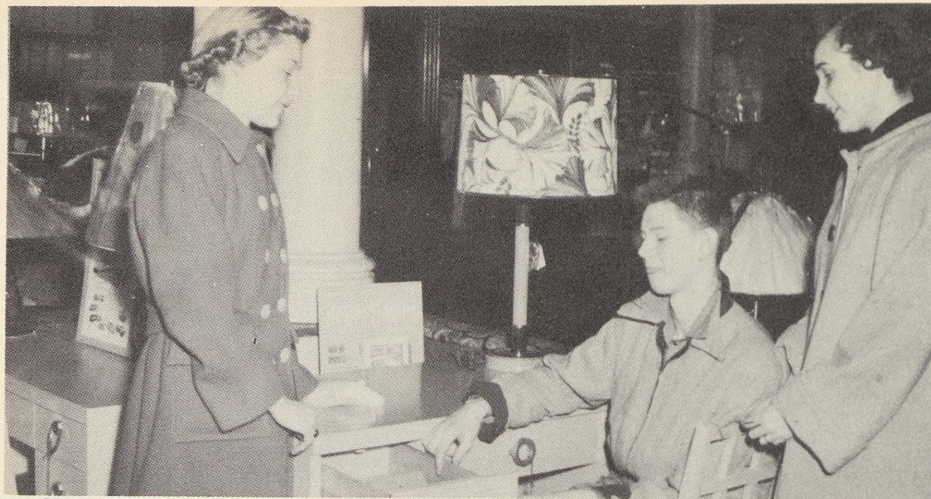

Every successful musical score is published. Opus 1953 was a smash hit. These Saginaw area publishers gladly helped bring this Arthur Hill symphonic arrangement to you.

The Publishers

Underwriters of many music projects are the W. J. Davis Music House, 315 Court, and the Somerville Music Shop at 1815 North Michigan. Claude Lemmer and Jan Davis haunt music shop.

PICTURE OF A HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE

SHE's one of thousands of high school graduates who feel that the telephone business is a worthwhile work . . . worthwhile for the people engaged in it . . . worthwhile for the entire community.

Like most Michigan Bell women, she entered the business with girls her own age . . . learned by doing . . . was well paid while learning . . . gets regular pay increases . . . looks ahead to continued opportunities for advancement . . . enjoys vacations with pay.

The girl in the picture is an operator . . . but there are many other types of jobs at Michigan Bell . . . and they're all important, too . . . because we're like a team and everyone has a necessary part to play.

Employment opportunities at Michigan Bell vary from time to time . . . from city to city . . . but one thing about it . . . we're glad to talk with girl graduates . . . always . . . anywhere.
